Commission to Consider French Debt

QUICK ACTION ON FUNDING IS EXPECTED

Ambassador Berenger to Appear Before America And Submit His Proposal

DECISION NOT BINDING

Mellon Asserts Tentative Agreement with Envoy of Paris Has Been Reached

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A formal motion to reconsider the administration's debt settlement, passed yesterday by the senate, was proposed today by Senator Reed, Democrat, Missouri, irreconcilable leader. Reed made the motion under a right he reserved yesterday by changing his vote on the roll call of final passage. He announced that it was his purpose to seek another vote upon the Howell amendment, which would enable a change in the terms granted Italy in the agreement by the American debt funding commission.

(By United Press)
WASHINGTON, D. C., April 22.—The American debt funding commission will be called to meet tomorrow to consider France's $4,377,000,000 debt to the United States, Secretary of the Treasury Mellon announced today. French Ambassador Berenger is expected to appear before the commission to submit a proposal for funding the debt. Mellon reiterated that no agreement had been reached with Berenger and none could be made except by the full American commission and the ambassador. The secretary admitted, however, that he and Berenger, in informal discussions, had reached an understanding on what was desirable for both countries, but their conclusions were not binding on either side. Mellon Answers Reed Secretary Mellon, in answer to Senator "Jim" Reed's attacks on the Italian debt settlement and Italian Premier Mussolini, said that "expressions made in the heat of debate against a friendly government and its ruler do not represent the views of the American people. 'I feel confident that these expressions will be forgotten,' he said. 'The approval of the Italian settlement will further cement the bonds of friendship between that country, ancient in history, and America, to which so many of her sons have come and are now part of our citizenry.'"

Early ratification by the senate of the five remaining foreign debt settlements was certain today, as the result of the decisive vote of 54 to 33 by which the $2,042,000,000 Italian debt funding plan was ratified by the senate late yesterday. Little Opposition Seen The Belgian debt funding agreement, as well as the proposed settlements with Rumania, Czechoslovakia, Estonia and Latvia, all of which have been approved by the house, were expected to be ratified by the senate with much less opposition than the Italian plan. Ratification of the Italian settlement, which provided comparative lenient terms, was regarded as assuring a similar agreement with France, the only major debtor nation which has not yet arranged a settlement. The Belgian debt settlement, made the unfinished business of the senate late yesterday, was to be brought up for consideration today. With the Italian debt pact ratified by the senate, treasury officials said the Jugo-Slav and French debts would be taken up at once. A commission of Jugo-Slav statesmen is now in Washington, waiting to discuss settlement of their country's $51,000,000 debt.

SEALED VENT IN MAUNA LOA BURSTS OPEN

HONOLULU, April 22.—Inhabitants of Miloli, a small native village in the direct path of the fresh lava flow from Mauna Loa, today prepared to leave their homes as the stream of molten matter swept toward them. That Miloli will be wiped out appeared certain.

(By United Press)
HONOLULU, T. H., April 22.—After having apparently concluded her 1926 performance, Mauna Loa came back for an encore today and exhibited a lava flow of renewed intensity.

While low-hanging clouds covered the slopes, the famous volcano tore open a sealed vent, threw out a fresh stream of boiling lava and sent it racing down the mountain-side toward the McWayne ranch house and a new section of government road.

At last reports, the stream was traveling at greater speed and was propelled by a heavier flow from the source than any of the earlier outbreaks. It was within two miles of the road, observers said.

The new flow was discovered when a glare through the smoke was sighted. The volcano had opened an old fissure and was sending the molten mass over the same course followed by the main flow in 1916, on the Kona side of the mountain.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—E. L. Doheny, the oil magnate, nationally known as a pillar of the Democratic party, has turned Republican.

Doheny has been a foremost supporter of the Democratic party in past years. He has been a candidate for office on numerous tickets, and was known as one of the leading contributors to the party's campaign funds.

BODIES OF 5 ARE REMOVED FROM TUNNEL

Sole Survivor of Slide in Bore Relates Experiences Of Being Interred Alive

SMOTHERED TO DEATH

Fatigued Rescue Workers Finally Complete Labors In Mountain Fastnesses

(By United Press)
QUINCY, Calif., April 22.—With death the victor, five to one, suspense surrounding the tunnel caving at Buck's mountain was lifted today. The two remaining bodies were pulled from their muddy tomb early today and dragged to the tunnel's mouth. They were identified as F. Michelson, 45, and J. Erickson, 40. The smothered forms of William Cope, Shift Boss, and James "Horse" McBride had been recovered earlier in the night. Thomas McDermott, taken alive from his perilous position late Tuesday night, is the sole survivor.

McBride's Voice Heard It was "Horse" McBride, veteran "hard rock man," whose cheering voice the toiling rescuers heard late Tuesday night as they labored to reach the imprisoned men.

"I'm all right, but get us out of here," McBride called through the layers of dirt which separated him from workers. But McBride was not "all right." Even as he shouted, he was all but covered with earth, which continued to slip down upon him and bury him deeper. This was revealed when the fatigued laborers scooped aside the dirt and located his body during the night. Cope and the other two men apparently had been smothered outright by the slide. They were in different locations in the tunnel, as if they had sought to flee when they heard the crash of timbers and the death rattle of rocks behind them.

Find Smothered Men Location of the bodies of Michelson and Erickson came after the sweaty, grimy rescuers had penetrated a small bore through the debris to the end of the shaft, without finding them. Later cutting to the sides of the mass and working backwards cautiously toward the end of the tunnel, they came upon the smothered men.

An inquest over the bodies will be held today, either at the tunnel mouth or at Buck's ranch, three miles away. Over rough, snow-lined mountain trails, the rescuers who have toiled with but little sleep since Sunday in a fight against death will bear their sombre burdens. The road from Buck's ranch to Summit is almost impassable, and teams may be sent to the ranch to carry the bodies or to assist automobiles through the mud.

The "dead wagon" left Quincy this morning to meet the strange funeral procession of the Sierras, and Coroner F. W. Hogan has gone to Buck's ranch to perform the duty imposed upon him by law—that of holding an inquest.

Sole Survivor Recovering McDermott is still under a physician's care, but steadily recovering from the shock and exposure of 72 hours' imprisonment. "I've been in these things before," he said. "This time only some broken posts overhead saved me. I talked for a time with McBride and Cope. They were in worse shape than I was. I'm getting weaker and can't stand it much longer." Cope said, hours after we were trapped. "Later everyone was silent. I feared they were done for." The death cell in Buck's mountain was a chamber of horrors. "The first I heard was the cracking of timber," McDermott said. "Then the sound of earth falling and rocks crashing. I tried my hardest to keep on my feet. But the timbers and earth forced me down on my back. 'I would have been smothered right then, but the timbers caught above my head and made an air chamber. I could breathe, but I couldn't move, except to put out my arm. 'I could touch 'Horse' McBride by doing this, for a while. 'Pretty soon, though the dirt that kept falling filled up the tunnel between us and we were shut off from each other. 'All the time water kept dripping, and dirt kept sitting down, closing everything. It was black dark. 'I guess I was pretty near dead."

BIG MONOPLANE READY TO HOP OFF ON RESCUE

(By United Press)
FAIRBANKS, Alaska, April 22.—Excitement ran high today as the Fairbanks headquarters of the Wilkins Arctic expedition prepared to dispatch the big monoplane De-troiter to search Capt. George H. Wilkins and Pilot Ben Eielson. A quantity of smoke bombs, to indicate to the rescue flyers the drift of the wind, was turned out by the chemistry class of the Alaskan Agricultural college. Extra windows were installed in the De-troiter to make closer observation possible.

It was believed all would be in readiness for the searching party to take off today. Expedition headquarters announced the search would be under the direction of Maj. Thomas G. Lanphier. He will be accompanied by Sergeant Wisely, as pilot, and a mechanic and radio operator.

Captain Wilkins, commander of the expedition, and Pilot Eielson have not been heard from since a short time after they took off last Thursday—one week ago—on their intended third flight to Point Barrow. They signaled in passing Wiseman, on the flight north. Since then, no authentic report has been received regarding them.

The De-troiter will fly directly to Barrow, to learn whether the commander's plane, the Alaskan, reached there. It is believed that even though the missing airmen are not found at the northernmost expedition outpost, some news may be had regarding them.

The flight to Barrow does not disclose their fate, the De-troiter will return to Fairbanks, load to capacity with gasoline, and return north to scout the ice packs.

WILLIAMS TO QUIT COUNTY BENCH MAY 1

Superior Judge Forwards Resignation to Governor Because of Illness

REST IS IMPERATIVE

Jurist Expects to Spend Ensuing Six Months at His Home at Capistrano

(By United Press)
ACTING on the advice of his physician, Superior Judge R. Williams has resigned as judge of the superior court of Orange county. The resignation is to take effect May 1. Judge Williams' health is such that a period of rest is imperative. Long months of hard work have brought about a condition that must be corrected, his physician told him.

Judge Williams expects to rest for six months, after which he will again enter private practice of law in Santa Ana. The resignation of the superior court judge was forwarded yesterday to Gov. F. W. Richardson. The authority to appoint a successor rests with the governor. Owing to the condition of the court calendars in this county, it is known that the governor will be urged to make an appointment immediately.

Possible Successors to Bench Among those who are mentioned as likely to apply for appointment are City Attorney H. G. Ames, of Anaheim, and District Attorney A. P. Nelson, of Santa Ana, both of whom are expected to be candidates at the August primaries for superior judge; Attorney James Allen, of Santa Ana, and Attorney William P. Watson, of Santa Ana. Judge Williams is one of the best known residents of Orange county, and one of the leading legal lights of Southern California. It is known that, had he desired it, long ago he could have been appointed to positions on the appellate courts of the state. Unwilling, however, to move away from the county, he refused to consider any such advancement.

The son of Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williams, of Villa Park, R. Y., Williams came to this county as a boy. He entered practice here in the '90s, was elected district attorney, and served in numerous political capacities throughout a long and close association with the county's political affairs. He attained a position as head of the bar of the county, and was successful in his business investments. When he gave up his practice in order to accept appointment by Governor Stephens as judge of the superior court, it was recognized that the change was at a great sacrifice financially. However, Judge Williams was able to afford the change, and so made it. His success as a judge has been marked.

Became Judge in 1919 He became superior judge Jan. 1, 1919, and in 1920 was elected to a six-year term without opposition. A few weeks ago, the Orange County Bar association, recognizing the unusual ability of Judge Williams, took steps to assure him that, if he should be a candidate at the coming election, he would have no opposition. A resolution was passed whereby Judge Williams and Judge E. J. Marks would run for the two six-year terms that are to be filled the coming election. Judge Z. B. Ward had announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election. It was agreed among the attorneys that anyone who would seek election as a superior judge, aside from Williams and Marks, would become a candidate for what is known as the short term. The short term is the unexpired term to which Judge Marks was appointed on the retirement of Judge F. C. Drumm, several months ago. Whoever is elected to the short term will serve for four years, at the end of which term re-election for a six-year term will be available.

New Agreement Discussed Judge Williams' illness and resignation sets aside that agreement.

Garage Company Buys New Sites

Announcement is made today of the purchase of two garage sites by the Orange County Garage company, Fifth and Seaplane streets, controlled by H. J. Carlsen and Otto Kolberg, of the Jordan agency. The purchase price of both properties was said to have been $55,000. One of the sites is a handsome garage building, located on the southwest corner of Los Angeles and Cypress streets, Anaheim, for which $55,000 was paid, it was said. The Santa Ana company expects to occupy the building within the near future, operating a first class garage. The other site is located on North Glassell street, Orange, near the new theater building. Approximately $20,000 was paid for this site, it was said. This property, 120 by 120 feet, is vacant, and the Santa Ana company now is making plans for the erection of an up-to-date garage on the property. The Orange County Garage company possibly is the oldest concern of its kind in the county. It was organized here in 1908 and has shown steady growth since that time. Its expansion to three garages reflects the growth throughout the years. F. S. Gordon, 501 North Main street, Santa Ana real estate broker, handled the transaction.

Bonds were fixed at $5000 for each indictment, a total of $25000, which the circus man put up for his release.

STAND BUILDER FACES TERM IN STATE PRISON

(By United Press)
LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Paul F. Mahoney, builder of the review-stand which collapsed at Pasadena during the Tournament of Roses festival on January 1, causing 10 deaths and hundreds of injuries, faced a long term in prison today, as retribution for the tragedy.

A jury found Mahoney guilty of manslaughter, and he will be sentenced on Monday. Conviction came after a trial lasting several weeks. The jurors were still deliberating this morning on the facts of Charles B. Bucknall, Pasadena building inspector, who was tried jointly with Mahoney. Bucknall inspected the stand before the fatal crash, and pronounced it "safe," according to the testimony.

Mrs. Laverne Hathaway, foreman, told the court at noon that the jury was deadlocked in Bucknall's case, with a vote of 10 to 2, not revealing whether it was for or against conviction.

Judge Burrell indicated he would discharge the jury if it failed to reach an agreement this afternoon.

See Only Two Ships. "We saw only two ships during the entire trip. One was a Japanese vessel and we couldn't raise her. The other was a freighter that we ran across 10 days ago. We told the freighter we were O. K., heading for port."

Mrs. Rosendal, attractive seamstress, only 30 years old, appeared none the worse for the harrowing experience.

"I didn't feel really lost at any time," she said. "I knew Captain Rosendal would pull us through somehow. He's an old-timer on the seas, you know."

The Irene, and her sister ship, the Alvena, left Grays Harbor an hour apart on December 14, both loaded with lumber, bound for Miami. It was to be a race between the two schooners. Both vessels were reported lost several weeks after sailing, and the Alvena, only recently was reported safe in Miami, after a long and difficult journey.

Vessel Is Overloaded. Captain Rosendal explained that his vessel was overloaded with lumber, carrying $71,000 worth of goods, which made it difficult to buck the stiff and unmanageable winds. He said he would make an effort to dispose of the cargo here.

Other members of the crew were B. Salberg, mate; J. Hansen, boatsman; E. A. Liedke, cook; W. E. Schulte, Ed Johnson, Olaf Anderson and James Childress, seaman.

There had been no trace of the Irene until she was sighted here this morning.

SCHOONER AT WIND MERCY FOR 130 DAYS

Dramatic Story of Hardships Told by Captain On Reaching San Pedro

RATIONS NEARLY GONE

Crew of Lumber Carrier Subsists for Many Days On Fish and Rain Water

(By United Press)
SAN PEDRO, April 22.—A dramatic story of adventure and privation on the high seas was related by the crew of the four-masted schooner Irene, from Grays Harbor, Wn., when she pulled into port here today, after being at the mercy of adverse winds for 130 days.

"I never encountered so many adverse winds in all my 20 years' experience on the seas," said Capt. Allan E. Rosendal, who, with his wife and crew of nine men, sailed from Grays Harbor on December 14 with a cargo of lumber, bound for Miami, Fla., by way of the Panama canal.

Blown Off Course. "We were blown off our course shortly after we put out and we never could get the wind with us to steer us right. We were within 900 miles of the canal at one time, and were within sight of Honolulu at one time, when another tricky wind turned us off the course."

Two members of the crew were in a critical condition. G. L. Petersen, seaman, was nearly paralyzed with a bad case of rheumatism, and Fred Dale, seaman, was suffering from acute indigestion.

For many days, the ill-fated sailors lived on fish and rain water, according to Captain Rosendal, and when they arrived here this morning they had only 11 gallons of water and a few cans of tomatoes in the larder.

800 Pounds of Fish. "We caught 800 pounds of fish," continued the grizzled old sea captain. "And by spreading the sails during the storms, we gathered enough rain water for drinking purposes."

"Fish and water made up the menu for many days. It was not the best of food for a steady diet, but it kept us alive. Two of the men are in bad shape from poor food and the long battle with the storm."

Captain Rosendal related how the crew listened in on a radio report on April 9, broadcast by station KGO, Oakland.

"We heard the announcer read the story of our being lost at sea," he said. "We were playing pin-ochle at the time, and it made us weren't able to signal our distress because we only had a receiving set."

"We saw only two ships during the entire trip. One was a Japanese vessel and we couldn't raise her. The other was a freighter that we ran across 10 days ago. We told the freighter we were O. K., heading for port."

REMOVE BODIES OF FIVE FROM TUNNEL

When they got me out," Michelson, 45, had been engaged in tunnel mining operations for years. He was single. He came to the Grizzly Creek project from Oregon, where he had been working on a tunnel between Klamath Falls and Eugene.

Erickson, 40, also a veteran miner, formerly was employed with Michelson on the Klamath Falls-Eugene bore. He was unmarried. McBride 26, was single. He was for some time an employee of the East Bay Municipal Water company and later went to Fresno, where he was employed on the San Joaquin Light and Power company's project.

Cope, 50, was a veteran hard rock miner and was engaged at one time in tunnel operations on the Stone-Webster project near Belden, and also on the Hetch Hetchy project. He had been connected with the Southern California Edison company near Fresno. During the Argonaut mine disaster, he was one of the rescuers. His mother lives in Los Angeles.

Coyne, whose body was the first removed from the tunnel, was from San Francisco. He was 45 years old and single. Previously he was in the employ of the Southern California Edison company and had worked in mines in Montana and Nevada.

ALLEGED NOTE RAISER NABBED BY U. S. AGENTS

With the arrest of Roberto Roche, 22, a Mexican, at Los Alamitos, yesterday afternoon, by U. S. secret service men, together with deputy sheriffs of Orange county, government officials are confident that they have captured a man for whom they have been searching for the last three months and who was wanted for raising bank notes.

Roche is wanted in Los Angeles for raising about 40 $1 notes to $10 notes and passing them through confederates. One of the confederates, who fell into the hands of the secret service several weeks ago, today identified Roche as the man who had manufactured the $10 notes.

By using part of the figure 1 on $1 bills and making a zero of it, and, with use of white paint and chalk, placing a 1 in front of it, the notes passed readily as $10 bills. Considered Neat Jobs.

Roche never had any trouble passing his doctored bills, it was understood, so good was the workmanship on them. Several, which were in the hands of the U. S. agents here today, were considered "neat jobs."

The first of the notes appeared in Los Angeles early in February and they have appeared more or less frequently since that time. Roche was arrested in a house in Los Alamitos yesterday afternoon by Ed McClellan and James Smith, of the sheriff's office, and Agostino Doesburg, of the secret service. He was arrested while he was waiting for his wife, Josephine Roche, who, for the last three months, has been in jail here on a charge of vagrancy. She was a resident of Los Alamitos.

Officers worked on the theory that the woman, when released from jail here, immediately would communicate with her husband. As Roche did not know that he was under suspicion, officers here suspected that he would call here for the woman when she was freed. They waited, but another man called for her. The officers then decided to follow the machine.

House Is Raided.

The car left for Los Alamitos and the woman was seen to enter a house there. The officers returned to Santa Ana and then went back to Los Alamitos, where they raided the house. Roche was found inside. He offered no resistance.

Last night Roche was taken to Redlands, where he lived during the last several weeks. In his room, officers confiscated chalk, a razor blade and an awl, which they allege were the working tools of Roche.

Roche this afternoon was taken to Los Angeles, where he will face trial in the Los Angeles federal court. William Ash, head of the southern district for the secret service, together with Doesburg, took the prisoner to Los Angeles.

After Betty had testified at length that she had been stranded penniless in Berlin, owing to Samuelson's conduct, the trial was adjourned.

among the attorneys. It was talked among attorneys today that a similar agreement may be renewed, following the appointment of Williams's successor. Failure to reach such an agreement will likely result in open competition for all three places on the bench.

Judge Williams expects to spend most of the next six months at his home at San Juan Capistrano, where he and his brother, W. B. SHIP AT DOCK IS PERILED BY FIRE

PORTLAND, Ore., April 22.—The McCormick line steamer Silverado narrowly escaped destruction here early today when fire broke out in hatch No. 1, causing a damage estimated at $43,500.

The ship arrived from San Francisco last night and carried a cargo of sugar and cement. She is of 3300-ton capacity. Fire department officials are of the opinion that a lighted cigarette was tossed into the hold prior to departure from the California port and that it smoldered during the journey north.

Firemen were forced to cut two holes into the side of the ship to get at the blaze, but extinguished it speedily with chemicals and water. The damage was caused by water and chemicals.

STRIKERS CONSENT TO NEGOTIATIONS

PASSAIC, N. J., April 22.—The United Front committee, organizers of the strike in the textile mills of this area, today consented to begin negotiations tomorrow with representatives of Gov. Harry A. Moore and with the mill owners.

Although Albert Weisbord, leader of the strike, personally accepted the invitation to negotiate, extended by Governor Moore, he declined to reveal whether he would be one of the conferees.

The mill owners repeatedly have said that they would not confer with him, charging that he is a Communist.

Troop Disorders Menace Peking

PEKING, April 22.—Manchurian military leaders are conferring today regarding means of controlling the disorderly soldiers who entered Peking after the evacuation of the capital by Nationalist troops last week.

Some means must be found to reorganize the government, since President Tuan Chi-fu's resignation and flight to Tientsin has left government affairs in chaos. It is probable that some sort of government will be created and put into operation by the Manchurian commanders.

volunteer the statement, nor advocate even this course, and it is evident that he either had not considered or did not include in his answer the obvious legal and practical difficulties which put the proposal out of consideration. Also, if the thing could be done, it would meet none of the situations of which the wets complain. As a practical plan, it is of no significance whatever. But as a part of the propaganda stunt, it was a tremendous "triumph." The chief of the dregs had "conceded" something. He had even "advocated beer and wine." He hadn't; but what of that? A Republican campaign orator rashly conceded that there was once a partly honest Democrat, who had introduced a bill which was only ninety-nine per cent wrong. "The Democratic party is vindicated. Even the Republicans say so. Everybody vote for Cleveland!"

A WORD OF COMFORT
What you are able to accomplish in a given period of time depends largely upon the habit of concentration which you can develop if you persist in the effort.
It is inane to maintain that you lack time for prayer and meditation and the regaining of perspective when the truth is you are diverting hours of valuable time in working at half-speed while your attention is inconstant and diverted from the task in hand.
Fence off the time required to nurture your spiritual life; the work hard while you work. There will still be leisure for pleasurable recreation.

MINE OWNERS AND WORKERS IN DEADLOCK

(By United Press)
LONDON, April 22.—The joint conference of mine owners and miners, seeking settlement of the dispute which threatens to paralyze British industry through a coal strike May 1, ended in "complete deadlock" today.

The coal mine owners immediately began posting notices of new wage scales. These scales are effective at various dates in the different districts, beginning Friday.
Secretary Makes Statement
"The operators stated definitely that wages must be based on the economic capacity of the district affected and said they could not discuss any minimum percentage which would be applicable nationally," said A. C. Cook, militant Miners' Federation secretary.
"That means complete deadlock."
The mine owners made the following statement:

"The miners made it clear they were not prepared to negotiate except on a basis of uniform national percentage. Of course, we could not possibly agree to that."

"If the unions would consent to increased hours of labor," the owners explained, "much more favorable terms could be discussed."

Negotiations Break Up
Joint negotiations broke up last week when the mine owners insisted that district wage agreements be substituted for the national minimum wage agreement which has been maintained with the aid of government funds.

The owners' argument is that the mines grouped in the various districts do not produce identical returns and therefore wages should be based on actual local conditions.
The owners seek increased hours of labor and decreased wages. The miners are firm against both.

BOASTFUL HUSBAND DIVORCED BY WIFE

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Harold Lytle's incessant bragging cost him his wife.
Mrs. Lytle won her freedom by testifying her husband was "a liar and braggart," annoying her with invented tales of heroic exploits.
She said he had his picture taken in a military uniform which he displayed prominently in his home, continually boasting of his "adventures" in France. "He was never in the army," she testified.

Mrs. Elliott-Lynn is the first woman aviator to fly commercially.
Under the rules of International law she is not allowed to take paying passengers, so for the present her work will be confined to carrying merchandise.

According to true Japanese etiquette, a fan must never be used in the presence of cut flowers.

Calcutta is to have a 12-kilowatt broadcasting station.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Two men were killed instantly and a third was badly injured today when an automobile in which they were riding was struck by a Santa Fe passenger train at the Mills avenue grade crossing, west of here.

The dead are John Boyd and Robert Sidell, Ontario. Robert M.
Rutledge, also of Ontario, suffered grave internal injuries. He was taken to the Pomona Valley hospital, Pomona.

Rutledge, the driver, had picked up Boyd and Sidell, and the trio was driving to work. They did not see the train until it was too late to avoid the collision. The machine skidded on to the track directly in the path of the locomotive.

Several accidents have occurred recently at the Mills avenue crossing.

ROW STARTED IN SENATORIAL BOOZE HEARING

WASHINGTON, April 22.—A row was precipitated in the senate prohibition committee hearing today, when Chairman Harrell, dry, served notice that the prohibition investigation was to be arbitrarily closed with seven hours and 13 minutes more of testimony.

The committee, he said, would make no further investigation on its own initiative, whereupon the wets contended they were being deprived of two and a half hours of their remaining time.

Wets Close Case
Harrell said the drys had one hour and 13 minutes and would be given three additional hours. Despite the fact that the wets have two hours and 30 minutes remaining, they announced they had closed their case, Harrell said, so they will be allowed only three hours in all.

The committee agreed to let Mayor William Dever, of Chicago, appear for the wets when the drys have finished their one hour and 13 minutes direct examination.
The first witness was E. C. Din-widdle, superintendent of the National Temperance bureau, Washington, who said no one would contend there had been 100 per cent enforcement of the law, yet results were encouraging.

New Adequate Equipment
Dinwiddle said that what prohibition needed was adequate equipment for enforcement and adequate court facilities. Legalization of beer and wines would offer no solution, but add to the difficulties of enforcement, he added.

"The uprising that forced adoption of the eighteenth amendment would be but a mild zephyr compared with the storm of protest which would sweep the country if you were to adopt the proposal for government dispensation of liquor," he said.
The wet proposal for a referendum was unconstitutional, Din-widdle argued. "We challenge them to secure championship of their cause by either of the major political parties and then watch the result," he said.

nounced today.

view branch, Inglewood, and the

TWO KILLED WHEN TRAIN HITS AUTO

G-E Motor Control Equipment

At the present time more power is supplied to the world's industries through the use of electric motors than by any other means.

But the motors of pumps, canneries, packing plants, and industrial machines require competent control equipment.

The control equipment provides for starting, stopping, and reversing the motor. It adjusts itself to overload, temperature and power supply conditions, and it protects the operator and machine from injuries.

G-E Motorized Power is more than a motor or its control
—it is a practical and economical application of electric power.
"Built-in" or connected to all types of industrial machines, pumps, farm
or household appliances, G-E Motorized Power provides lasting assurance that you have purchased the best.

G-E Controllers especially fitted to G-E equipment to the task is the service of

Friends Entertain Yesterday Evening At Goodbye Party

COMPLIMENTING Mrs. Cecelle Best of the Orange County Savings and Trust bank and Miss Mildred Cook of the First National bank, who are leaving soon to take their vacation trips, Miss Flora Heide and Mrs. Ernest V. Kelley (Connie Woodside) entertained charmingly at a "goodbye" party yesterday evening at the home of the former, 435 South Birch street.

The orchid and dainty yellow tones of the color motif were artistically carried out with orchid sweet peas, yellow daisies and gold-petaled roses, and the diversion set for the evening was the interesting game of "500." Miss Thura Marrs and Mrs. Nora Lalonde captured the pretty prizes for high and low scores.

Mrs. Best and Miss Cook were presented with guest awards, and when the be-ribboned packages were opened, they were found to contain beautiful handkerchiefs, one from each friend present. The honorees were delighted with the thoughtfulness of the girls, the "handies" adding greatly to their wardrobes in preparation for their journeys.

The large dining table in gala dress, with its lovely linen and centerpiece of a lovely rose, which formed a receptacle for the salted nuts, made an attractive picture. Its place cards bearing dainty maiden travelers and all of the appointments suggestive of "going-away." The two-course collation carried out the delicate tints of the house decorations and formed a fitting conclusion for an evening of delight, the guests in departing showered their friends with best wishes for delightful outings and safe return. Mrs. Best leaves for Honolulu next Saturday and Miss Cook in the near future for a trip through the middle west.

Besides the hostesses and honor guests, those participating in the pleasant event were Mesdames Nora Lalonde, Mabel Wilkinson, Lillian Angle, Emma Dietrich, and Violet Hillyard; Misses Thura Marrs, Elma Saulk, Ruth Manns, Gertrude Potts, Frances Potts, Grace Was, Opal Davis, Edna Gam-mell and Agnes Shambaugh.

Book Review Section Hears of "South Wind"

The Book Review section of Ebbl is one of the busiest sections of the society, and following the regular meeting yesterday afternoon in the clubhouse lounge the section served the banquet for the Kiwanis club in the dining room, and next Tuesday will put on a luncheon for the Rotarians, will have a book exchange booth at the Ebbl spring market April 22 and 23 and serve refreshments for the Ebbl society after the regular meeting of June 14.

Miss Beulah May gave a review yesterday on "South Wind," by Norman Douglas, which created quite a stir when it came out in 1915, one of the New York papers giving it an entire page and calling it one of the classics. The whole story, if one could call it a story, was enacted in twelve days. There is no plot whatever, the book being rather a character study of people of a low caliber of morals, and rather meaningless religious ideals of the two people, long dead, around which the book is built. St. Nicodemus and the good Duke Alfred.

Each member of the section is asked to telephone five people outside the Ebbl for books, which they would like to exchange for others at the Spring Market for the tiny sum of a quarter.

The next meeting will be held either with Mrs. C. V. Newman at her country home in Tustin or with Mrs. R. G. Tuthill at Laguna Beach, when Miss Jennie Lasby will give a review.

Ebbl Spring Market Opens Auspiciously

The "Spring Market" and flower show, one of the big events in Ebbl circles for the season, opened today in the beautiful clubhouse, which presented a beautiful picture with its profusion of flowers, potted plants and a number of booths, where attractive articles of all kinds are on display. One of the unique exhibits is the book of the Book Review section, where one takes a donation and carries away the book of his or her choice for twenty-five cents.

The Spring Market will continue over tomorrow and light lunches are served during the day. Interesting programs have been planned and there will not be a dull moment, according to the enthusiastic committees in charge of the various departments.

Altar Society Folk Plan Busy Year At Meeting

ORTY members of St. Joseph's Altar society gathered in Knights of Columbus hall yesterday afternoon for their regular business and social meeting. Mrs. George W. Young, Mrs. Olive Lopez and Mrs. J. E. Pleasant were the hostesses for the afternoon.

The hall was beautifully decorated with large baskets filled with spring flowers and Mrs. Clyde Ashen presided during the business session. The chairman of the five sections, into which the society has been divided, reported their plans for obtaining funds for the upkeep of their part of the parish activities. The first event will be a cooked food sale on Saturday at Blauer's grocery by section No. 1, of which Mrs. George Young is chairman. Section No. 2 will give a rummage sale next Monday at the Mexican community center on West Fifth street. Any one having donations may call Mrs. L. M. Banks or Mrs. R. G. Tuthill. A joint card party will be given by two sections on May 5.

The amendments to the by-laws were accepted and after the business meeting, the hostesses served delicious homemade ginger cake with whipped cream, and coffee. The next meeting will be held at Laguna Beach Wednesday, May 19, at Mrs. R. G. Tuthill's cottage. A potluck dinner will be enjoyed and Mrs. Lopez is chairman of the dinner committee. Anyone wishing to attend will notify her at her home, 801 East Fifth street or telephone 1233M.

Mrs. Mary Franzen Home With Health Recovered

Mrs. Mary Franzen, who has been ill and at the Loma Linda sanitarium for almost two months, returned home yesterday, much improved, and Miss Della Franzen and Miss Elfreda Biggin entertained a little bridge club the same evening in honor of the event. The games resulted in high score for Miss Jessie Childers, Miss Elizabeth Parslow scoring low.

Sweet peas and forget-me-nots as decorations assured everyone that "spring is here", and late in the evening pineapple sundaes were served with angel food and a delicious maple-nut cake.

Those present were the Misses Gladys Campbell, Esther Jean Davis, Tessie Childers, Dorothea Smith, Elizabeth Parslow, Peggy King, Lois Sweet, all of this city; Miss Nellie Wilkins of Orange, Miss Keitha Wyatt of Anaheim, and Mrs. Edward Franzen (Stella Anderson) and the hostesses, Elfreda Biggin and Della Franzen.

TERRIBLE PAIN

Alabama Lady Tells How She Obtained Relief by Taking Cardui. Feels Fine and Enjoys Life Now, She Says

Talladega, Ala.—Mrs. Mary Hardy, 408 Henderson Avenue, this city, says that seven years ago she "got down sick" and was unable to attend to her household.

"I have never been so weak before or since," she says. "I had a terrible pain in my side—so sore in my side and the lower part of my body."

"Across my back ached, and I was so nervous I couldn't stand up. I had just about given up when some one who came to me began talking about Cardui. This caused me to get it. I took about two bottles before I saw much improvement."

"After this, though, I picked up right away. I slept better at night. I was hungry, enjoyed my food, which hadn't done for some time."

"The pain and soreness gradually left my side. I regained my strength. I took about six bottles and left off for awhile, then took two or three more. . . I feel just fine, enjoy life and can work now, too."

Cardui is purely vegetable, and contains no harmful drugs. It has helped thousands of suffering women and should help you, too. NC 153

The Woman's Club
Elects Officers
On Tuesday Last

The club through a very successful year, has surrendered the gavel.

The other officers are Mrs. M. C. Williams, vice president; Mrs. William Whitehead, secretary; Mrs. Henry Diers, treasurer; Mrs. C. T. Wells, press chairman; Mrs. I. D. Annis, historian, and Mrs. Lovisa Leslie, critic.

The retiring officers gave brief resumes of the work accomplished during the year and among other business transacted was the election of Mrs. Sarah Griffith, a past president, who is an invalid, to be honorary member and Miss Leonore Tompkins and Miss Martha Ritchey associate members. Two warm wool blankets were presented to the children's health camp and delegates were elected to the state convention to be held at Riverside May 4 and to the county convention at Anaheim on Friday next. Mrs. M. J. Marks is the president's appointee to go to Riverside. Mrs. Lovisa Leslie, delegate and Mrs. James Clark, alternate. Mrs. M. C. Williams, Mrs. I. D. Annis and Mrs. Lovisa Leslie were elected for the county convention and Mrs. Henry Diers, Mrs. W. S. Chandler and Mrs. Howard Clemons alternates.

Frank Ey was welcomed as a visitor and gave some interesting reminiscences of the building of the city hall. He urged the club to erect a clubhouse and stated that it was not a difficult task. Mrs. W. W. Crozier of Newport Beach gave an interesting talk on the general federation and told of how the clubhouse at Newport Beach was built.

Following the business meeting Mrs. J. H. Tompkins, Mrs. W. S. Chandler and Mrs. C. T. Wells served tea and wafers, the meeting being held in the Unitarian church and opened with the singing of the club ode and reading of the collect.

The next meeting will be held on May 4 with Mrs. Asa Vandermaast and on May 18 there will be an open meeting at the church, with "Law Enforcement" as the subject and with prominent speakers to present it before the members and their guests.

Clever Name Story Of Business Women By Minnie Mayhill

Once upon a time there was a charming girl, who decided she would venture upon the sea of matrimony. Her name was Martha and she didn't care a whit whose son she married. She told her friend Mayme, who said, "If he is bright, well and good, you may have a happy voyage."

When they had talked matters over they decided it would be the proper thing to have Nancy Marshall the affair, so Nancy said, "First we must ask some of the girls to act as bridesmaids—but there was where their troubles began for Mary got smart and said she must carry the bouquet; Alice got Cole feet and said Lula Ott to act in her place."

Finally everything was arranged very satisfactorily, but it is one thing to plan and another to carry the plans out successfully. On the day of the wedding Vanche Plumb forgot to go, so did the minister so Lee said, "There's no Patton on that ceremony let Margaret Reid do it."

Eleanor said Eli-I-Ott to get in on this, so she suggested we all accompany them on their honeymoon to Italy. Here was another chance for argument for Freddie said we would have to go on a Barg-er she wouldn't go. So Mary and all the girls Ar-good and let her have her way.

When we were ready to start Margaret said we must go see the King, Louise said no the Kaiser. Ruth said let's go to Ellis Island, so the trip was delayed considerably.

Finally, Nancy, being the Elder of the Bride, decided we would just make a house party out of it, and let Clara Cooke for us. Then Doris said she had some tame Robbins she would like to take along, since we were not going on water. Effie said she would take her White kitten, and of course Lorraine wanted to take her French doll and Cecyl her pet Drake, if we would promise to let it swim in the bath tub. Elva spoke up and said that didn't seem at all bright, perhaps it might get loose; so Rae said she would Chase it if it did, but Estelle, thinking that not a very dignified way for girls to act, Worked the Man of the crowd to say all such animals must be left at home.

The whole affair ended when Anna spilled the Beans by saying we would go to Virginia, then and jump off a Craig.

Thus ended, what might have been a fair chance for the Bride to live happily ever afterwards.

MISS PRUDENCE MACOMBER BRIDE OF BRUCE SWITZLER

MR. AND MRS. BRUCE E. SWITZLER, WHO WERE MARRIED YESTERDAY, AT THE HOME OF THE BRIDE'S UNCLE AND AUNT, MR. AND MRS. LEROY HALL. THE BRIDE WAS MISS PRUDENCE MACOMBER.

MIDST a group of their relatives and closest friends, surrounded by flowers and to the accompaniment of soft music, Miss Prudence Macomber and Bruce E. Switzler, yesterday spoke their wedding vows at the home of Miss Macomber's uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. Leroy Hall, 2700 North Main street.

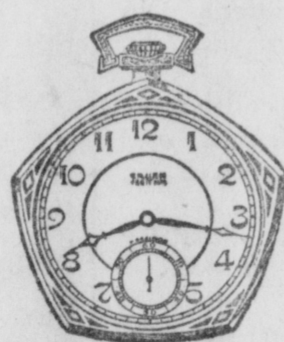

It was an unusually lovely wedding, with an even lovelier bride, for Miss Macomber, a pliant brunette, was a picture in her bridal gown of soft white satin, worn with a long tulle veil, falling from a coronet of orange blossoms. Her slipper was of silver, and silver ribbons caught small clusters of orange blossoms to the folds of her veil. A great cluster of bride's roses, lilies of the valley and orchids forming her bridal bouquet, was tied with white lace and showered with lilies of the valley.

Mrs. Stanley Clem as her matron of honor, wore a charming taffeta frock in crabbapple tint with transparent hem and silver lace, worn with silver slippers. Her flowers were Premier roses and Spanish lilies in an arm cluster with maiden-hair fern. The two young cousins of the bride, the Misses Henrietta and Charlotte Chase were bridesmaids, and entered the room together, each carrying a shepherdess crook surmounted with a huge cluster of deep pink sweet peas. Their taffeta frocks were identical in style, the skirts with transparent hems and adorned with Frenchy ribbon flowers in basket design.

Miss Henrietta Chase was gowned in apple green and her sister in orchid. Wee Gloria Clem in a ruffled little blue taffeta with pink bows, was the adorable flower girl, who scattered white rose petals from a basket wound with pink sweet peas. As the bride and her attendants approached the improvised altar in the living room of the beautiful Hall home, Miss Macomber leaning on the arm of her uncle, Mr. Hall, the bridegroom, Mr. Switzler, entered from the opposite side of the room, attended by his best man, Stanley Clem, his ushers, Charles Swanner and Floyd Croddy, and gown of soft white satin, the Rev. F. T. Porter.

The picturesque group paused before a big window filling one end of the room, where a canopy of pink sweet peas and smilax, formed a charming background for the ceremony. Tall baskets of pink carnations flanked the altar thus formed, and birds sang in ornamental cages suspended from the greenery.

As the solemn ceremony progressed, it was to the muted accompaniment of MacDowell's "To a Wild Rose," played by Miss Maurie Hamill. Miss Hamill was at the piano for a most interesting recital preceding the ceremony, as friends assembled in the lovely flower-decked home. Her opening number was "Yenolan Love Song" by Nevin, followed by Saint-Saens' "The Swan," a violin piano number with Miss Georgia-Belle Walton playing the violin. Miss Kathleen Owens then sang very sweetly "I Love You Truly" by Cadman, followed by a violin number, "The Waters of Miss Owens then sang "Believe Me if All Those Endearing Young Charms," after which Miss Hamill played Lohengrin's Wedding March, to which the bridal party entered.

After the congratulations following the ceremony, when the Rev. Mr. Porter introduced Mr. and Mrs. Switzler to their friends, a delightful two-course wedding breakfast was served by a group of friends of the bride, all in girlish vivid frocks. They were the Misses Janey Wilde, Kathleen Owens, Margaret King and Priscilla Allen, assisted by Mrs. Maude Chase, aunt of the bride.

Mr. and Mrs. Switzler soon took their departure for a motor honeymoon, the bride wearing the smartest little blue and white cape frock imaginable, with white and blue hat and gray shoes and hosiery. Miss Kathleen Owens aided them in their departure, and they left amidst a shower of rice, little dreaming that the back of their car was liberally inscribed with "just married" placards.

Upon their return they will take possession of a pretty new home in Broadway Park, where a wealth of beautiful gifts will find place.

Miss Macomber has made a host of friends here by her charming personality. She taught music and expression for some time, making her home with her relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Hall. Mr. Switzler has also made a prominent place for himself since he arrived about two years ago to assume the position as superintendent and assistant general manager of the Rankin Dry-goods company. He is active in civic and service clubs, a member of the board of directors of the Greater Santa Ana Chamber of Commerce and vice president of the Junior division, and also a member of the Exchange club.

Friendly Bridge Club
Entertained at Tustin

Mrs. Charles Artz was the genial hostess yesterday afternoon to the members of the Friendly Bridge club, who met at her hospitable home in Tustin, and were served at noon with luncheon, the tables and home being made attractive with a profusion of spring blossoms.

Following the enjoyment of the dainty menu, three tables were utilized for bridge, the prizes being captured by Mrs. G. P. Campbell, Mrs. W. S. Sylvester and Mrs. Charles Cogan.

IT'S perfectly natural, isn't it, when Springtime comes, to feel the urge to brighten up the home a bit? Then why not welcome Spring with new furnishings for your home?

The glorious sunshine streaming in through the windows suggests the need of a new rug or draperies; the porch needs a couple of new chairs; the guest room is to have a new bed and mattress; or, that much neglected work-a-day room is to have its long waited for modern gas range.

And that old refrigerator! The chances are that a new one would actually pay for itself in savings on the ice bill.

If there is anything at all in Springtime furniture that you will be needing, it will pay you to call and see the new things we are showing.

Specializing, as we do, in quality furniture, you can choose here with perfect safety. Moreover, you will be assured of complete satisfaction. We stand back of everything we sell.

It is a fact that if just one or two pieces do not give service out of a whole group of housefurnishings, the apparent savings on the first cost of so-called cheap furniture is lost.

CALIFORNIA PETROLEUM CORPORATION

FOREST WEEK IMPORTANCE EMPHASIZED IN ADDRESSES BY RANGER J. B. STEPHENSON

That American Forest week ought to be made a personal proposition with every resident of Orange county was declared today by Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson, of Corona, in charge of the Santa Ana range of mountains, a part of the Cleveland National forest.

"Forest preservation is vital to this county on account of its relation to water conservation," said the ranger, who is spending a few days in this county in making addresses on the need of upholding the work of the U. S. forest service. Stephenson is co-operating with a number of organizations that are making an effort to carry out the educational programs instituted as a part of American Forest week, April 18 to 25.

Forests Water Sources
"Orange county's direct interest in forest and brush preservation," said Stephenson, "lies in the fact that its water supply comes largely from areas that lie in national forests. The headwaters of the Santa Ana river, which river furnishes gravity streams to the Santa Ana Valley Irrigation company and the Anaheim Union Water company and replenishes underground reservoirs from which pumping plants draw their streams, are in the San Bernardino mountains. A forest fire in the San Bernardino mountains is, therefore, of direct interest here. The Santiago, Trabuco and San Juan creeks, from which irrigation water is taken, are fed in the Santa Ana mountains. Any fire that wipes away trees, brush and grass in the Santa Ana mountains, then, is likely to do direct and immediate harm to this county."

Stephenson spoke yesterday before the Lions club, in Orange, this morning in the high school, in San Juan Capistrano and later in the high school in Orange.

Outlines State Law
In his talks, the ranger stressed incidents from his own experiences and emphasized the need of constant care on the part of anyone going into the mountains. He advised those driving automobiles to provide their machines with receptacles, into which match stubs and cigar and cigarette stubs can be thrown. He outlined the state law against smoking in certain areas.

The fact that a large proportion of the devastating fires that occur in California are due to carelessness was pointed out.

The ranger read the following paragraph from the proclamation of President Coolidge, in announcing American Forest week:

"We must stamp out the forest fires which still annually sweep many wooded areas, destroying timber the nation can ill afford to lose and killing young growth needed to constitute the forests of the future. Forest fires, caused largely by human indifference or carelessness, are the greatest single obstacle to reforestation and effective forest management."

INJURED WOMAN'S CONDITION BETTER

The condition of Mrs. M. V. Lyon, 78, who was seriously hurt Sunday night, when she was struck by an automobile, driven by Glenn E. Stilwell, Anaheim, at Seventh and North Main streets, was improved today.

Mrs. Lyon is in her home, at 715 Bush street, suffering from concussion of the brain, as a result of the accident. She was struck by the machine as she was crossing the street, the impact knocking her to the ground.

Although her condition is reported as serious, her mind seems to have cleared somewhat, it was said. She is suffering, however, from near exhaustion.

Phil Zaket, 1735 West Fourth street, reported to police last night that a tire was stolen from his automobile, while it was parked near 109 East Sixth street.

L. J. Lamberton, 26, Costa Mesa, was arrested last night on a drunk charge. The arrest was made by Officers Howard and Fink.

DOG IMMUNIZATION URGED BY PRESSON

Immunization of dogs against rabies was urged today by Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer, following receipt of reports that several persons have been bitten by mad or vicious dogs.

A man, bitten a few days ago in Anaheim, now is taking the Pasteur treatment. A small child, bitten this morning by a dog in Santa Ana, was treated today by Dr. Presson.

It was intimated today at the county health office that to insure better control of the situation, the adoption of a county ordinance, requiring all dogs to be licensed, may be recommended to the supervisors.

MILLION DOLLAR AVALANCHE DUE IN ORANGE COUNTY TAX OFFICE IN NEXT FOUR DAYS

The business of collecting more than a million dollars within four days today engaged County Tax Collector J. C. Lamb and his staff, at their quarters in the Hall of Records.

Payments of the final installment of county taxes for 1925-6 are due not later than 5 p. m., next Monday, April 26. With its customary dalliance, the tax-paying public has waited until the eleventh hour to meet its obligation and now is rushing in, pell mell, waving half-written checks and hurriedly thrusting forward improper descriptions of its property at the harried collection clerks.

This semi-annual drama of confusion is being enacted this week at Lamb's office, seemingly with studied attention to the precedent established by tax-paying bodies everywhere since taxes were levied. Patently, the Orange county taxpayers do not intend to be outdone in this respect. They are enthusiastically preparing the usual avalanche, which will fall on Lamb and his aides and smother them some time during the next three days.

Two Types Avalanche
The tax avalanche, it is said, consists of two varieties. One is the human, which rushes in through the front door upon the tax collector. The other is the mail sack type, which pours through the rear entrance to complete the sandwiching of the unhappy inmates.

Being familiar with the tax-paying animal and his habits, Lamb has laid careful plans to expedite tax payments and eliminate as much of the confusion as the taxpayers will allow. But the avalanche will come just the same, he admits.

Here is the tax collector's recipe for an avalanche:
"Take one taxpayer, a hastily scrawled check, which omits several essentials, a property description, consisting of a former telephone number or some equal clew. Stir until 10 minutes before closing time. Add a dash of impatience. Then multiply these ingredients by 30,000 more taxpayers. The result is a fine stew."

Lamb Still Cheerful
In spite of all this, Lamb remains cheerful. Philosophically, he has issued his "do and don't" list for taxpayers, slightly hopeful that somebody will heed it, and is wading through the first wave of the avalanche.

First installment collections last fall amounted to $3,126,142.84 and collections of the final installment have been gradually coming in since then, but there is more than $1,000,000 still on the books, Lamb said today. All that is not paid by next Monday, at 5 p. m., goes on the delinquent list. Lamb's office will remain open during noon hours and on Saturday afternoon, in addition to the usual office hours, to accommodate the belated taxpayers.

LAST RITES MONDAY FOR G. A. R. VETERAN

Funeral services for Edmund F. Cleveland, 80, G. A. R. veteran and resident of Garden Grove, who was killed there Monday night when he was struck by an automobile, driven by T. H. Nishimori, Japanese school boy, will be held at 2 o'clock, Monday afternoon, in the Garden Grove Methodist church.

The county post of the Grand Army of the Republic will hold special services over the body following the services in the church and the Sons of Veterans will act as pallbearers. The Rev. Looftbarrow, pastor of the Garden Grove church, will officiate.

Mr. Cleveland had been a resident of Garden Grove for three years, coming to this county from Wisconsin. A daughter, who survives him, will arrive here from the east in time to attend the funeral services.

Taxpayers Are Given Bit of Advice

To save annoyance to you and expense to your department of taxes, and to insure proper credit being given to your account, the following instructions should be observed:

If you pay your bill in person at the office, be sure to bring the tax bill with you to be receipted.

Be sure you bring the proper legal description, either from a current or former tax bill, or some deed, contract or other legal paper. Street addresses mean nothing to the tax collector.

Have your check written out before you come to the tax collector's office and be sure that it is correctly written, for the proper amount, and is signed. That will save you time and trouble.

If you pay your tax bill by mail, be sure also, that the check is properly made out. If it isn't, the mistake will not be discovered until two weeks after the date of delinquency, when all the mail is opened. Your property will then be on the delinquent tax list, as the responsibility for making a correct payment, on time, rests with the taxpayer.

Your check must be placed in the mail in time to reach the tax collector before the date of delinquency. All incoming mail received after that date is handled as delinquent matter.

Be sure to pay only by check, postal money order or express money order. Postage stamps are not acceptable. Coin and currency are liable to loss or theft and are mailed at the sender's risk.

Be sure to accompany your payment with the tax bill. If, for any reason, you cannot send the bill, attach a memorandum, stating exactly for what the payment is intended, and giving legal description of your property.

Always write your return address on the envelope, so that the tax collector can communicate with you, if necessary.

The auditorium was decked with a profusion of flowers and during the evening games were played. Miss Grace Waters and Mrs. C. H. Harrison gave readings, and Mr. and Mrs. Vaught were presented with a handsome cut glass water set and the bride with a lovely bouquet.

Santa Ana Delphians At Reciprocity Lunch

The delightful Reciprocity luncheon given on Tuesday last by the Anahem Delphian chapter to the Delphians of Fullerton, Placentia and Santa Ana was attended by Mrs. F. E. Coulter, president; Mrs. L. M. Smith, Mrs. Alice Hatch, Mrs. J. C. Schmidt, Miss Lula Minter, Miss Gertrude Minor, Mrs. C. P. Boyer and Mrs. B. F. White from Santa Ana.

The table decorations for the luncheon, which was served by the Woman's auxiliary of the American Legion, at the Angelina hotel, were attractively carried out in red and yellow, and the beautiful young girls who served were in attractive Spanish costumes.

The feature of the afternoon program was a lecture on "Spanish Art and Civilization" by Prof. Joseph Pijoan of Pomona college, who urged the use of Spanish architecture in homes and edifices. He stated that care should be taken, however, in the selection of plans, citing some buildings which carried out the idea perfectly and others, which he called "terrible."

Several delightful Spanish solos were rendered by Miss Wickersheim, Fullerton, her mother accompanying her on the piano, and Miss Wickersheim and Mr. Diaz gave a Spanish dance.

Triangle Girl Reserves Have Merry Evening

The Sunset Triangle Girl Reserves of the First Presbyterian church met on Tuesday last for a six o'clock swim at the Y.M.C.A. and it was followed by a dinner at seven at the Y.V.C.A. club rooms. The menu consisted of baked beans, meat loaf, sandwiches, potato chips, lettuce salad, peaches and cookies, the healthy appetites being whetted by the exercises preceding.

Following dinner the girls gathered about the piano and sang popular songs, sixteen members being present to enjoy the affair, including Miss Phyllis White, the leader and Miss Nancy Elder, Y.V.C.A. supervisor.

Country Club Scene Of Pleasant Meeting

A delightful afternoon was passed yesterday at the regular monthly bridge party at the Santa Ana Country club, when Mrs. J. C. Metzgar of Santa Ana and Mrs. T. B. Talbert of Huntington Beach were the hostesses. Eight tables were filled and the trophies were awarded to Mrs. Walter Vandermaast, who received a dainty glass flower bowl and Mrs. Grundy of Newport Beach, guest of Mrs. Roy Russell, a pearl necklace.

Beautiful roses from the country club gardens were used for the attractive decorations and delicious fruitade, candy and nuts refreshed the players during the afternoon.

Miss Dorothy Hill Bride Of Walter Merriweather

Miss Dorothy Hill, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Sam Hill of 2639 North Main street, a native daughter of Santa Ana, and a graduate of the Santa Ana high school, and Walter Merriweather, son of Mr. and Mrs. George Crooks of Long Beach, slipped away to Los Angeles and were married in the courthouse last Monday. The groom's mother, Mrs. Crooks, was the only member of the family present for the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Merriweather have gone to Long Beach, where the

PARKS APPEAL IS VOICED IN SCHOOL TALK

An appeal for a new Santa Ana city park was voiced by C. N. Mozley, chief deputy district attorney, in an address, this morning, before the students of the Santa Ana polytechnic high school. Mozley spoke on "Forest Conservation," as part of the program here in observance of National Forest week.

When the students were asked whether they thought the city needed new recreation grounds, an enthusiastic affirmative response resulted.

"Now is the time to provide for an adequate park to meet the needs of the city, while property can be secured reasonably," Mozley declared.

The importance of the national forests as water sheds and recreation grounds was emphasized. Mozley declared the carelessness of cigarette smokers, who cause disastrous forest fires through thoughtlessness.

An oration was given during the assembly by Wallace Grebe on "Hamilton and the Constitution." Grebe is to represent the Santa Ana high school in the national oratorical contests on the U. S. constitution.

Near East relief activities were explained to the students by Charles Emmens, state director. A film on the relief work was shown.

Young groups are connected with his step-father, Mr. Crooks in the tailoring business.

HEARINGS BEING HELD ON THREE THEFT CHARGES

Held to answer on one charge of first degree burglary, Guadalupe Salcido, El Modena Mexican youth, was facing hearings today on two other similar charges, in Justice K. E. Morrison's court.

Salcido, so-called "bicycle burglar," was formally accused of burglaries at three Villa Park homes, those of Robert Johnson, John F. Allen and Henry Fitch. Lost obtained from each of the three homes and found, it is claimed in Salcido's possession, was introduced in court today by the prosecution, under direction of Deputy District Attorney Kenneth H. Burns. Testimony of an asserted confession by Salcido, following his arrest April 12, was given by Deputy Sheriff Dan Adams.

Salcido's counsel, Joseph Marquette Jr., of Los Angeles, offered no testimony in defense at the hearings today, but argued for dismissal of the charges on the ground that no burglary had been proved. He admitted that there might be evidence of receiving stolen goods, but that was all.

Marquette drew a laugh in the courtroom, when he painted a word picture of the confession of Salcido, portraying Deputy Sheriff Adams as a "big, burly officer, armed with a dangerous weapon, intimidating the weakling youth he had arrested."

Adams and Salcido grinned. The three hearings were scheduled to be held in succession. The charge involving the Allen burglary was heard first and completed, Salcido being held under $1500 bail.

Another charge interrupted proceedings at that point, the second hearing being started later.

Tribute to Judge West Last night's meeting had been designated as "Judge West meeting," for the reason that Superior Judge Z. B. West meeting, for the reason that Superior Judge Z. B. West had announced that he would not be a candidate for re-election to the superior court bench, where he has sat for nearly a quarter of a century.

The attorneys gathered for the purpose of paying tribute to Judge West. Among those who arose and thanked the judge for personal kindnesses and courtesies and for judicial consideration, and who reviewed attributes that had brought distinction and a high place as a judge to Judge West, were Attorneys J. C. Burke, C. D. Swanner, P. C. Drumm, E. N. Mosley, H. C. Head, H. G. Ames, A. P. Nelson and W. F. Menton, and County Clerk E. R. Abbey. Without exception, the speakers pointed to the ever-present desire of Judge West to be fair, and to the fact that, regardless of how trying a case might be, he remained always good tempered, always anxious to reach a fair judicial determination.

"During my time on the bench," said Judge West, "I have held court in 17 or 18 counties of this state, and I want to say that no bar association stands higher in the standards sought and attained than does this bar association."

Williams to Retire The bar association received a letter from Superior Judge R. Y. Williams, in which the judge expressed the association of his intention to retire from the bench on May 1. A resolution expressing the regret of the bar over the fact that Judge Williams has found it necessary to retire was presented by Attorney S. M. Reinhaus, and was passed.

Following the resolution, a number of those present paid tribute to the work of Judge Williams. First came Judge Z. B. West, who said that Judge Williams' departure from the bench would prove a "profound loss" to the county. F. C.

NEW PRESIDENT

L. A. West, Santa Ana attorney, who last night was elected president of the Orange County Bar association.

Drumm, former superior judge, and Superior Judge E. J. Marks joined Judge West in tributes to the excellence of Judge Williams' work. Others who spoke were L. A. West, District Attorney A. P. Nelson and W. F. Menton. The association passed a resolution endorsing the candidacy of J. W. Curtis, former judge of the San Bernardino superior court, for re-election as a member of the supreme court of California. The resolution was presented by Attorney H. C. Head.

WOMAN GIVES BIRTH TO CHILD ON MOTOR BUS

Officials in charge of vital statistics will be confronted with a delicate problem a few days hence, when called upon to decide the birthplace of a 7 1/2-pound boy, born late this morning to Mrs. Leslie Gable, negro, while she was a passenger on a Motor Transit company bus enroute from Los Angeles to San Diego.

Neither passengers on the bus nor the driver were able to determine whether the stork visited the bus while it was in Los Angeles county or just after it had crossed the Orange county line.

The child was born before the bus reached Anaheim and the mother and infant were rushed to the Anaheim sanitarium. They then were taken to the Orange County hospital, where, at noon today, mother and child were "doing nicely."

The mother told hospital attendants that she is a servant in a house at 1617 Sunset boulevard, Los Angeles.

Mrs. Gable was on her way from Los Angeles to San Diego to visit a sister when the stork flew down and perched on the rapidly moving bus.

Court Notes

To Quiet Title

Mr. and Mrs. Arthur J. Day have filed suit in superior court against R. D. Floyd and others to quiet title to property near Costa Mesa. Attorneys Head, Rutan and Scovel represent the plaintiffs.

Action Is Filed

An action to quiet title to property in Santa Ana was on file today in superior court, naming Frederick H. Eley as plaintiff and John H. Constantine, and others, as defendants. The suit was filed through the law firm of Head, Rutan and Scovel.

Held To Answer

W. A. Venable, Los Angeles, was held to answer on a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of liquor, when he appeared today before Justice K. E. Morrison for preliminary examination. Heffer and Ray Bradfield, who arrested Venable at Culver corners, near Irvine, testified against him. The prosecution, conducted by Deputy District Attorney Kenneth

STUDENTS ARE PREPARED TO PRESENT PLAY

Final dress rehearsals for the Santa Ana high school senior play, "The Goose Hangs High," will be held tonight. The comedy is to be presented tomorrow night, starting at 8:15, in the high school auditorium.

Ticket sales indicate that the play is to be given before a full house. The senior play always has been one of the outstanding annual school events.

Pathos and humor combine to make the production one of the best that has been staged by the senior classmen in recent years, it is said.

Ernest Crozier Phillips, instructor in dramatics, has been directing the acts. Details have been perfected and the play developed with is theme of parental love. In the Ingles family, sacrifices have been made to send the "twins" to college. Recklessly they spend the money that comes to them from home. Then the crisis occurs. Mr. Ingles loses his position. With regret, the children realize their responsibility.

Special stage settings have been procured for the presentation. The new sets were up for the dress rehearsal last night.

Butterfly Chaser Sued for Divorce

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Dr. John A. Comstock chased so many butterflies, insect type, that he neglected his wife, according to her petition for divorce on file here today.

"I feel that he wasted many years of his life chasing butterflies," said the petitioner.

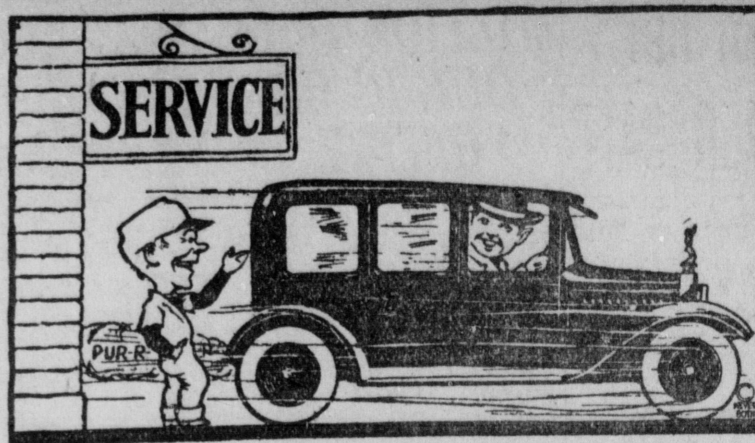

Dr. Comstock was, until recently, director of the Southwest museum. Burns, also introduced an analysis of alleged liquor, taken from Venable, showing that the concoction was 43 per cent alcohol. Venable is at liberty under $500 bail.

Mr. Franklin M. Bell, of Merrill, Lynch & Co., prominent investment bankers, in an article which was published in the Los Angeles Evening Herald of Thursday, April 15th, wrote the following regarding Chain Store Securities:

"Prior to 1911 the only important chain store security publicly dealt in was the stock of the United Cigar Stores Co. In that year the shares of the Woolworth company were introduced to the market. Since then the shares of Kresge, McCrory, Penney, Kress, National Tea and practically every other large chain of stores, with the notable exception of the Great Atlantic and Pacific Tea Co., which is still privately owned, have been publicly issued. The early buyers of these securities were fabulously rewarded for their confidence in the chain store idea. That recent buyers have fared well is clearly shown by the following comparative tables:

Year—	8 Chain Store Stocks.	20 Industrial Stocks.
1923.....	137.50	95.63
1924.....	209.25	104.42
1925.....	410.50	137.19

"The first column shows the average market price on April 21 during the above years of eight standard chain store stocks, adjusted to allow for stock dividends, as compared with 20 standard industrial stocks.

"The most important reason for the steady growth of sales and profits of chain stores is that they are gradually narrowing the gap between the producer of merchandise and the consumer. For years this country has suffered serious economic loss, due to the high cost of distribution. Chain store concerns, in reducing the cost of distribution, have rendered, and will continue to render for years to come, an increasingly valuable service to the community.

"Chain stores buy as nearly as possible direct from the producer or manufacturer, and sell direct to the consumer. Lost motion is eliminated, freights reduced, waste decreased and prices lowered. It has now become an accepted fact that the necessities of life—food, clothing, household furnishings, and, in general, all articles of daily consumption—can be purchased at lower prices, quality considered, from a well-run chain store than anywhere else."

History will repeat itself. Now, Daley's Inc., affords the public an opportunity to invest in this fast growing chain store corporation.

STAGE AND SCREEN

Gloria Swanson, Lawrence Gray and Joseph Smiley in a scene from "The Untamed Lady," current attraction at the Yost theater.

Artist's conception of John Barrymore, now appearing at the West Coast-Walker in "The Sea Beast."

WEST COAST-WALKER.

John Barrymore, a rugged, adventurous and stirring tale in which to return to the screen after the year in which he was winning international fame on the stage as the greatest "Hamlet" of his generation. Warner brothers supplied the story, Herman Melville's "Moby Dick," which became "The Sea Beast" in film form, and Barrymore has supplied history with something that inspires tumultuous enthusiasm.

His characterization of Ahab, Celey in "The Sea Beast," which opened yesterday at the West Coast-Walker theater, is a powerful and compelling proof of his genius. Nothing he has done on the screen can compare with his performance in this production.

The story is famous for its epic history of the whaling crews of New England in 1840, and for the fascinating drama of a romantic struggle between the two sailor brothers.

George O'Hara plays the brother and Dolores Costello, the missionary's daughter. Millard Webb has worked wonders with the direction of so stupendous a production, and Rupert Hughes has supplied some unusually fine titles. Boss Meredyth adapted "The Sea Beast" to the screen, and Byron Haskins photographed it. In every conceivable way this photoplay ranks as one of the greatest glories that the screen has known.

The West Coast-Walker theater is presenting this great picture with an atmospheric prologue. In addition to novel stage settings and effects, Al Steiner's Little Symphony orchestra features some especially arranged selections; the Lions club quartette sings stirring melodies, and Bob Graham, a well-known baritone, is featured.

CONNELL'S COMEDIANS.
"Three Live Ghosts," now playing at the Temple theater, is proving to be one of the most enjoyable plays ever offered by the popular Connell Comedians. The entire cast is rapidly gaining friends who are pleased to know of their return to the Temple theater. Manager Connell is the holder of a five-year lease on the property and patrons are assured of a long time engagement.

The program is changed each week on Saturday matinee. The play that will follow "Three Live Ghosts" is one of the greatest comedies of its kind ever written—"Lombardi Ltd."

This play which features women's styles has proved one of the greatest money-makers in production. It affords Bob Alderman, "the chap with the smile," a chance of a lifetime to make friends among the ladies. The play transforms him into a shy but wise little dress-maker of the kind that caters to the rich and exclusive.

Gowns will be draped on models right on the stage and creations designed right before your eyes, making one of the greatest fashion shows ever presented in Santa Ana.

While the play is classed as a comedy a real story interest is at hand at all times which affords the entire cast of players a wonderful opportunity in their respective parts.

"Chip of the Flying U," which is showing at the West End theater, is one of the season's best pictures. Hoot Gibson, whose work in such pictures as "The Calgary Stampede," "The Flaming Frontier," "Let 'Er Buck," "Spook Ranch" and other pictures, has made him possibly the most popular western star on the screen, plays the title part of "Chip" Bennett.

The supporting cast contains many well known film names. Virginia Brown Faire lends feminine charm to the leading role opposite the star. Philo McCullough offers another of his suavely villainous characterizations as "the other man."

DeWitt Jennings, Mark Hamilton, Harry Todd and Gilbert "Pee Wee" Holmes play important and amusing character roles.

YOST THEATER

If "The Untamed Lady," opening tonight at the Yost theater, had nothing more to recommend it than the fact that Gloria Swanson stars in it, it would still be well worth seeing, for Gloria can always be depended upon for a capital performance.

However, the glamorous Miss Swanson is amply supported in this instance by a story worthy of her talents—one, in fact, especially written for her by Fannie Hurst, noted American author—by a surrounding cast of capable and experienced players, including Lawrence Gray, Joseph Smiley, Thomas Holding and Charles Graham, and by the directorial assistance of Frank Tuttle.

The plot, which James Creelman adapted for screen purposes, centers around Gloria, in the rôle of a wealthy society heiress with an ungovernable temper. Of course, any one endowed by nature with more than the average share of good looks and who, in addition, is the proud possessor of twenty million dollars, has a perfect right to be independent, but Gloria does go to extremes in doing as she goes—darn please.

Cheering for Yale, while sitting in the Princeton stand, during a Yale-Princeton football game; attending a smart social function in a bathing suit; interrupting a famous musician at an exclusive musicale—these are some of her exploits that cause her friends much anguish of spirit. Incidentally, they are responsible for her punctured romances, since love and temper do not mix.

Pasadenan Has Expensive Day In Orange Court

ORANGE, April 22.—W. E. McMann, Pasadena, was fined $10 when he appeared before City Recorder G. W. Ingle yesterday, charged with speeding 31 miles per hour.

In addition to the court penalty, McMann paid for damage done to the motorcycle belonging to Motor Officer George Peterson. The motor was parked in front of the stage office, when McMann sideswiped it with his automobile, according to the officer. Two headlights on the motor were shattered and other minor damage done.

ALLEGED CHICKEN THIEVES ROUTED

There probably are many places in Santa Ana where chickens may be stolen without danger to the thieves, but one of the places is not that of Bert Dawson, 521 South Birch street.

Dawson reported to police last night that he saw a car drive up to his place and, believing that its occupants had come there to steal his fowls, he rushed out with a shotgun.

The car hurriedly was driven away and the chickens were safe this morning.

CORONER TELLS KIWANIS OF VARIED DUTIES

The fact that so many persons take out life and accident insurance policies these days, and the fact that many carry double value in case of accidental death, makes imperative the closest investigation of deaths properly coming within the jurisdiction of the coroner and public administrator, it was related by Charles D. Brown, coroner and public administrator, in an address delivered yesterday at the meeting of the Kiwanis club.

He announced that insurance companies demand transcripts of evidence given at virtually every inquest he holds.

He pointed out, however, that in most deaths coming under his jurisdiction, the cause of death is so evident that it seldom is necessary to perform an autopsy in order to satisfy relatives or insurance companies.

He pointed out that only a physician or a coroner can sign a certificate of death. The speaker also referred to his duty as administrator, which is to administer estates of persons without known relatives near at hand.

Roscoe Young, lieutenant governor of this Kiwanis district, was present and addressed the club briefly, emphasizing the importance of the club maintaining a high record in the attendance contest.

Mrs. Julia Hyde entertained with vocal selections, singing "Out of the Dusk" and "I Passed By Your Door," accompanied on the piano by Miss Ruth Armstrong.

OPPOSE ACTION TO BAN DANCING

Opposing the demand of the Parent-Teacher association that Sunday dancing be banned in the county park, a communication from the Orange County Conference of Social Work was received today by the county supervisors.

The communication, signed by the secretary, Mrs. Edna Bichan, 424 Fruit street, Santa Ana, declared that the following resolution had been passed by the conference: "Inasmuch as the Orange County park is a delightful place to the children of the family, we recommend that the board of supervisors do not grant the petition presented by the Parent-Teacher association, but do recommend that the supervisors arrange for proper supervision of the dance floor at all times.

Justice Testifies Before L. A. Court In Bigamy Action

Justice Kenneth Morrison returned here last night from Los Angeles, after attending a trial in Superior court No. 21 there yesterday, in which Rockford Russell Woodruff was charged with bigamy.

Morrison testified that he married Woodruff here several months ago. The case against the man was dismissed because the prosecution had alleged the crime had been committed in Los Angeles county. New papers are to be drawn in the case, however, according to Morrison.

4 New Smallpox Cases Reported

Four additional cases of smallpox, three in Brea and one in Santa Ana, were reported today by Dr. V. G. Presson, county health officer. This brings the total number of active cases in the county to 11, distributed as follows:

Brea, six; Santa Ana, four; and Orange, one.

None of the cases under observation is of the malignant type, Dr. Presson declared.

He emphasized, however, the imperative necessity on the part of healthy people to secure immunization through vaccination, which, according to medical authorities, is the quickest and most effective way of stopping the spread of the disease.

shipped from this plant.

Today marks the commencement of operations at the Olive Hillside Groves plant. One car will be shipped each day for a week or more until the season is more advanced, according to plant officials. About 125 cars will be shipped during the season.

The Orange Mutual Citrus association's plant is shipping about three cars per day and will increase shipments slowly until an output of five cars per day is reached. A force of 80 persons will be employed during the heavy packing. About 340 cars will be sent out this year.

Lemons are being cared for almost exclusively by the Central Lemon association, with a present output of two cars per day. The force of 30 packers will be increased to 80 at the peak of the season, about the last of May. An increase in production is mainly the result of consolidation with the Tustin Lemon association. Approximately 400 acres were added to the total, making 2300 acres now listed with the association.

TEACHER COMPILES EDUCATION COSTS

Educating a student in the Santa Ana polytechnic high school costs $131.30 a year for classroom instruction alone.

This, among other interesting data, has been compiled by L. L. Beeman, who has made a detailed study of teaching costs here. According to his figures, it costs 9.99 cents for each hour's recitation by the student.

In his estimate, Beeman included only the direct expenses of salaries and supplies, without adding overhead.

Carrying the figures further, it was shown that the cost during the year for each course taken by the student averaged $36.26. The usual number of the student's courses for cash, sold out of the United States, all the following real property situated, lying and being in the County of Orange, and more particularly described as follows: to-wit:

The investigation disclosed that the average number in each class in Santa Ana high school is 25.5. The largest classes among the major courses are in the history department, where 23 students per period are enrolled. Printing ranks lowest, with eight students. More students are taking English than any other subject. It was shown. There are 802 students in 30 classes. Social science ranks second, with 745 students.

MORE FRUIT!

Ranch VALUES in Southern California, as elsewhere, are established by the PRODUCTION of those lands, and Orange County's citrus production has been such as to warrant prices of $5000 and $6000 per acre, paid by the most experienced growers.

Ranch COSTS are affected by all manner of human conditions, and once in a while there arises an opportunity to buy RANCH VALUES far greater for the money than at any other time. Such a situation now exists at the David Hewes Ranch, three miles east of Orange, where full-bearing Valencia orange and lemon groves are being sold, to close an estate, at prices much less than their value, judged from their production records.

The trees are largely full bearing; they have received the best of care, and the yields have been steadily increasing as the trees grow larger. The groves have been consistently fertilized, pruned, and fumigated and have already had their usual spring fertilization for this year.

Consistent good care has brought the production of these groves to a high average, so that the Valencia orange yield for the past three years shows an increase of 20 per cent over the STATE'S average, and a 7 per cent increase over the average of Orange County, which has the highest average yield of oranges in California.

The lemon groves of the David Hewes ranch estate are to a large extent relatively young trees, but the average production per acre is 21 per cent greater than the average for California and 10 per cent greater than the average for Orange County, which is one of the four coastal counties where lemons produce heaviest, especially during the summer months.

Thus it will be seen that the present prices of $1000 to $3000 per acre for Hewes ranch estate groves are exceedingly low compared to their PRODUCTION VALUE. Nowhere else in California can citrus groves carrying such tremendous crops be purchased at prices comparable to these. Lemons are picked every month in the year and the Valencia oranges are NOW ready to harvest; an IMMEDIATE return on your investment.

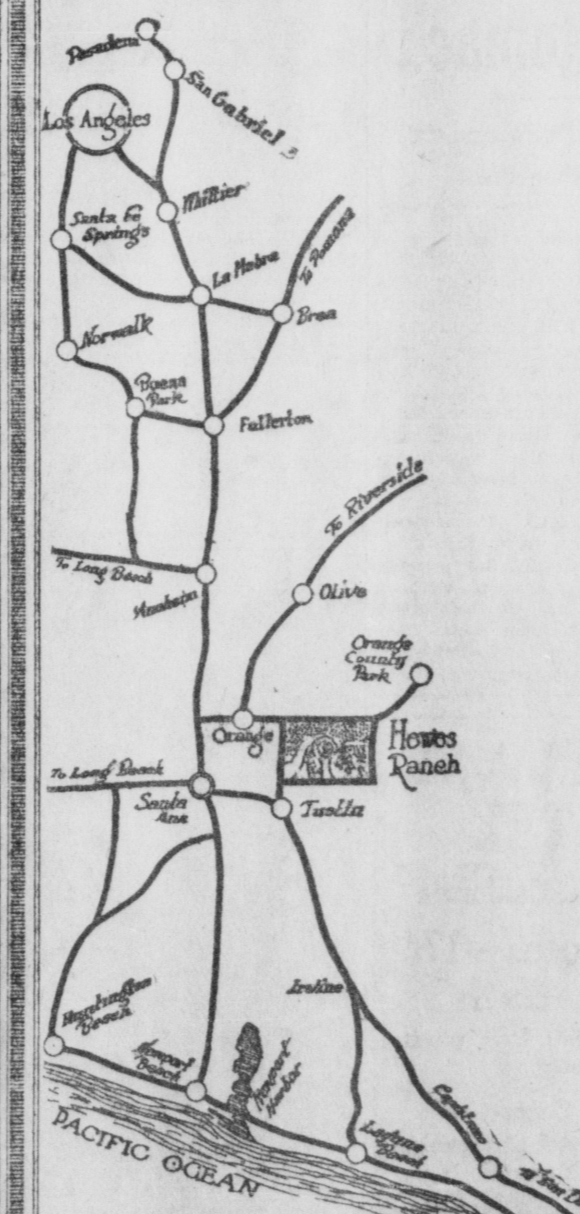

And the terms are only one-fourth cash, the balance arranged in convenient payments. There is a five per cent discount to those who build and an additional 5 per cent discount to those who may wish to pay all cash.

There is a double water supply for the entire ranch of nearly 700 acres; we have our own packing houses, and all the facilities required by a large ranch, so that we can continue to care for your grove until you are ready to build and assume its complete charge.

Drive out today, and see this beautiful ranch, where there is an income home tract awaiting you.

The only quick-cooking oats with this flavor is "Quick Quaker"

FLAVOR is the all-important point in food. In oats it is probably more important than in any other.

That is why people who once taste the tasty richness of Quaker Oats are spoiled thereafter for all others.

Quaker flavor is unique, toasty and delightful. No other oats offers it to you. Some 50 years were spent perfecting it.

Quaker milling, too, retains much of the "bulk" of oats. And that makes laxatives less often needed. Protein, carbohydrates, and vitamins and this "bulk" are thus combined to make Quaker Oats an excellently balanced ration.

For your own sake, say "Quaker" when buying oats. Two kinds now at groceries: Quick Quaker (cooks in 3 to 5 minutes) and Quaker Oats as always.

Brea Trustees Name 2 Officers

BREA, April 22.—Two appointive offices were filled last night and it is expected two more will be filled when the city board of trustees meet again tonight. R. McClure was reappointed city marshal and H. M. Williams, of Sierra Madre, was appointed motorcycle officer.

Williams succeeds Jack Hurley, who resigned some time ago. George Mabes, former night watchman of the town, was discharged by the city officials, who declared that they believed two officers enough for the town. The city marshal is to police the city from midnight until noon, while the other officer will be on duty the remaining 12 hours. No decision was reached on the office of fire chief, now held by Charles McGraw, and that of city recorder, held by Charles Kinler.

Build New Dance Hall at Laguna

LAGUNA BEACH, April 22.—Laguna Beach is to have the finest dance hall in Orange county, according to plans announced this week by George N. Brown. The old pavilion on Coast boulevard, opposite the Murphy building, is being torn down and a new building, 100 by 100 feet will rise before the summer season. Piles have been driven into the sand on the ocean front and the dance hall will extend to the inside of the board walk and will be on a level with it. The architecture will be of a Spanish type and the materials stucco and tile. Four store rooms will be built on the front and the roof will be circular, rising in front an elevation of 14 to 22 feet. This will aid the acoustic properties for the dancers. The entire ocean front will be of glass.

STUDENTS FAIL IN EFFORT TO CHANGE COLORS

Efforts to change the purple and white colors of the Santa Ana junior college were spiced yesterday by the students after a discussion of the proposal in student body assembly.

After adoption of the Don insignia for the college, a move was started to have the colors changed, to become significant of the early Spaniards. On this point, Maynard Ronin and Henrik Van Rensselaer based their argument for discarding the present colors.

The students opposing the change appealed to the traditional background of school history that rested on the purple and white colors.

"What the cardinal is to Stanford and the Blue and Gold is to California, the purple and white is to Santa Ana junior college," declared John McCoy, past student body president.

A show of hands, called for by George Broomell, president, indicated that the student body was overwhelmingly against accepting new colors. Among the students who spoke against changing the colors were Miss Dorothy Cartwright, Miss Thelma Patton and Stewart Rittner.

The assembly program was presented by the college drama class, instructed by Ernest Crozier Phillips. The class presented "Triflers."

Members of the cast were Al Clavin as Mr. Peters; Harold Fish as Mr. Hales; Miss Esther Walker as Mrs. Peters; Miss Lorena Porter as Mrs. Hales.

Acid Stomach

"Phillips Milk of Magnesia" Better than Soda

Hereafter, instead of soda, take a little "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" in water any time for indigestion or sour, acid, gassy stomach, and relief will come instantly.

For fifty years genuine "Phillips Milk of Magnesia" has been prescribed by physicians because it overcomes three times as much acid in the stomach as a saturated solution of bicarbonate of soda, leaving the stomach sweet and free from all gases. It neutralizes acid fermentations in the bowels and gently urges the soured waste from the system without purging. Besides, it is more pleasant to take than soda. Insist upon "Phillips." Twenty-five cent bottles, any drugstore.—Adv.

P. T. A. Considers New Maintenance Of Kindergarten

Recommendations that expenditures for maintaining kindergarten classes in public schools be defrayed in part by the state and in part by the county, thus placing this department of school activities on the same basis as grammar schools, junior and senior high schools and junior colleges, may be submitted to the state legislature by the California Congress of Parents and Teachers, it was reported today in P. T. A. circles here.

At the present time, the burden of maintaining kindergarten classes has been borne by local taxation. It is contended by educators that properly organized kindergarten classes do not only serve a well defined purpose in the schools, but constitute a valuable child welfare agency, substituting the home where there are no proper or adequate facilities for child training.

SCHOOL MUSIC SOCIETIES TO ENTER CONTEST

Students of music in the Santa Ana polytechnic high school are preparing to compete in the annual Orange county music contest, to be held on the afternoon of April 30, in the Brea grammar school auditorium.

The boys' and girls' glee clubs, the orchestra and the band are to be entered, according to Miss Louise Mansfield, head of the high school music department.

It is expected that competition will be keen as all the county high schools are planning to enter the contest. In former years, Santa Ana has received a number of awards.

The glee clubs of the Santa Ana high school are under the instruction of Miss Mansfield. S. J. Mustel is band and orchestra leader.

Another contest, of Southern California scope, also is commanding the attention of the high school music department. Under the arrangement of the California Elstredford association, a contest is to be held in Santa Ana, for the Orange county district, on May 29, to select the regional winners.

After the winners from the various sections have been decided, finals are to be conducted in Los Angeles. Miss Adelaide L. Proctor, of Orange, is chairman of the committee for this district. She has announced that entries are open for violin, piano and solo renderings as well as for chorus, band and orchestra numbers.

The Advertising club will have H. S. McKay, of Los Angeles, sales manager for the Foster and Kleiser company, as principal speaker at the club's regular meeting tomorrow noon, at St. Ann's Inn.

While now connected with outdoor advertising, McKay will not talk on that subject, but will draw upon his wide experience gained in national advertising and selling while occupying the position of vice president of both the George H. Eberhard company and Evans and Barnhill, Inc., two leading national advertising agencies with offices in New York and San Francisco.

"Some Sales and Advertising Problems for 1926" will be the speaker's subject. The Advertising club will be glad to welcome every Santa Ana business man to this meeting, it is announced, because McKay's talk is deemed certain to contain much helpful information. J. G. Campbell, Foster and Kleiser's local manager, will act as chairman of the meeting.

SANTA ANA MAN IS HONORED AT MASONIC MEET

William Lee Duggan, of Santa Ana, was chosen grand master at the sixty-seventh annual state assembly of the Grand Council, Royal and Select Masters, Masonic order, meeting in San Francisco, according to news dispatches received today. More than 2500 Knights Templar, from many parts of California, were expected to participate in a parade in San Francisco today, in connection with a Masonic gathering.

One of the impressive features of the convocation according to the dispatches, was the calling of the roll, when eight delegates stepped forward in response to a summons for those who attend the famous grand chapter gathering during the San Francisco conflagration.

On the night of April 18, 1906, the grand chapter was in annual session in the old Masonic temple, on Montgomery street, San Francisco, and proceeded with its business despite flames that swept the neighborhood, until the delegates were ordered out of the place by troops.

Introduction of veterans of that convocation is one of the annual rites of the order, but only eight, who attended the hectic convocation 20 years ago, were present this year.

BOLSA

BOLSA, April 22.—Friends of Normand Stout are welcoming him home after an absence of seven months, spent at the orthopedic hospital in Los Angeles, where he has been under treatment for an injured knee. Stout came home Saturday with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Harley Stout. Normand is getting about on crutches and the limb has improved to the extent that he can touch his foot to the ground.

Mr. and Mrs. George Harding entertained Mrs. Harding's brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. John Baker, of Long Beach, as dinner guests in their home Sunday.

In the afternoon, they were joined by Mrs. Harding's brother Vernon, Hell, Mrs. Hell and their small son, Bobby, of Smeltzer, and her brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. Sterling Price and family, of this place.

Mrs. John Shutt was pleasantly surprised upon the event of her birthday anniversary, when several relatives arrived unexpectedly in her home to spend the afternoon hours with her.

In the party were Mrs. Sarah Gardner, Mrs. Earl Gardner, Miss Bessie Gardner, Miss Margaret Gardner, Myrtle and Dorothy Gardner and Mrs. George Hetzler.

Miss Lucille Radford, of U. of C. southern branch, spent the week end at home. Miss Esther Radford, of Newport Beach, also was here for the week end.

Mrs. John Cochran has been a frequent visitor the past week at the Santa Ana Valley hospital, where her mother is a patient.

Mrs. John Shutt left Tuesday for Newport Beach to spend a few days with her granddaughter, Miss Es-ther Radford.

Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Howard and family, of Escondido, have been visiting at the home of Mr. Howard's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. T. Howard.

Fritz Goosens has taken a term lease on the 10 acres owned by Miss Florence Uttersport and is preparing for an up-to-date chicken ranch. Mr. Goosens is a cousin of Adolph and Gustave Callens, of Irvine, and expects to be joined later by a friend who is coming from New York to engage in the poultry business with him. Miss Uttersport is reserving a portion of the house and will reside here as before.

A merry party composed of Mr. and Mrs. I. D. Wallingford and son, William, and daughter, Martha, Mr. and Mrs. Roy Head and son, Danny, Wilcox, in Artesia, Eulalie, Mr. and Mrs. Ralph Ross and three sons, were entertained at the home of Mrs. Head Sunday.

Mr. and Mrs. Clyde Miller, of Alhambra, Mr. and Mrs. Orel Hare and daughter, Mary, and son, Buddy of Westminster, and Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Sebastian, of Smeltzer, left Bolsa at an early hour for Orange County park one morning this week and enjoyed breakfast there. The picnicers had a steak bake at noon and in the evening returned to Bolsa, where, at the Ralph Ross home, they enjoyed the final meal of the day.

The Bolsa Social club is giving a dance at the local clubhouse on Saturday evening. The public is invited.

Dr. Carl Halsh is planning on a new home, work on which has already begun. The rear portion of the Halsh residence has been torn away and the front will be moved back from the boulevard to make way for the erection of the main part of the building. The house is to be stuccoed.

Clyde Richardson is now an employee of Sterling Price, and is working on the Price ranch east of the river.

W. H. Fewell, local barber, spent Tuesday visiting old friends at Hawthorne.

Charles Dalsell is spending a portion of his vacation from the Huntington Beach post office, where he is employed, with his father, J. Dalsell, here.

Mrs. Florence Clubine entertained in her home Monday, her brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Middlethigh of Long Beach, and Mr. and Mrs. Arthur C. Barley, of Hollywood. Mr. and Mrs. Middlethigh are leaving soon for a three months' stay in Honolulu, their former home.

The moving picture shows which have been held each Wednesday evening in the Bolsa clubhouse are proving quite popular and in all probability, will continue to be given as long as interest continues.

Distinctive Beauty at a One-Profits Price

Studebaker Big Six Brougham $2410

THE most beautiful Studebaker ever built—a car that offers luxuries in style, finish and interior appointments considered impossible in a car at this price until Studebaker achieved it through One-Profits manufacture.

No car has a finer type of body construction—nor more luxurious inner and outer appearance—than the Studebaker Big Six Brougham. There are only seven American cars of equal rated horsepower, and they cost from two to four times more to buy.

It is because of this that we ask you to judge this fine car solely on a basis of comparison with any fine car you have admired, and buy then by what you know to be the facts.

From its black-enameled steel travel trunk on the rear, attractively set off by ornamental brackets, to the distinctive curve of its bright nickel-plated radiator—the Big Six Brougham is the highest example of the coach builders' art. Leather rear-quarter and landau arms complete its custom beauty.

A study in luxury

Inside—it's a study in luxury. Wide, deep seats accommodate five in easy-chair comfort. Upholstery is of finest broadcloth, tailored to a form-fitting design. Interior hardware is tastefully arranged and finished in rich Butler silver.

The richness of its interior and exterior finish is indicative of the fine quality body construction you cannot see. Body pillars are of selected northern white ash; cross-members of hard maple. Studebaker standards—the highest in the industry—zealously guard every operation in its manufacture.

Studebaker Big Six world's fastest-selling high-powered car

The Big Six Brougham is powered with the identical engine that carries hundreds of Studebaker busses at high speed hour after hour over some of the most mountainous and difficult-to-travel routes in America—hence we urge you to compare its thrilling performance with that of the finest "eights" as well as "sixes."

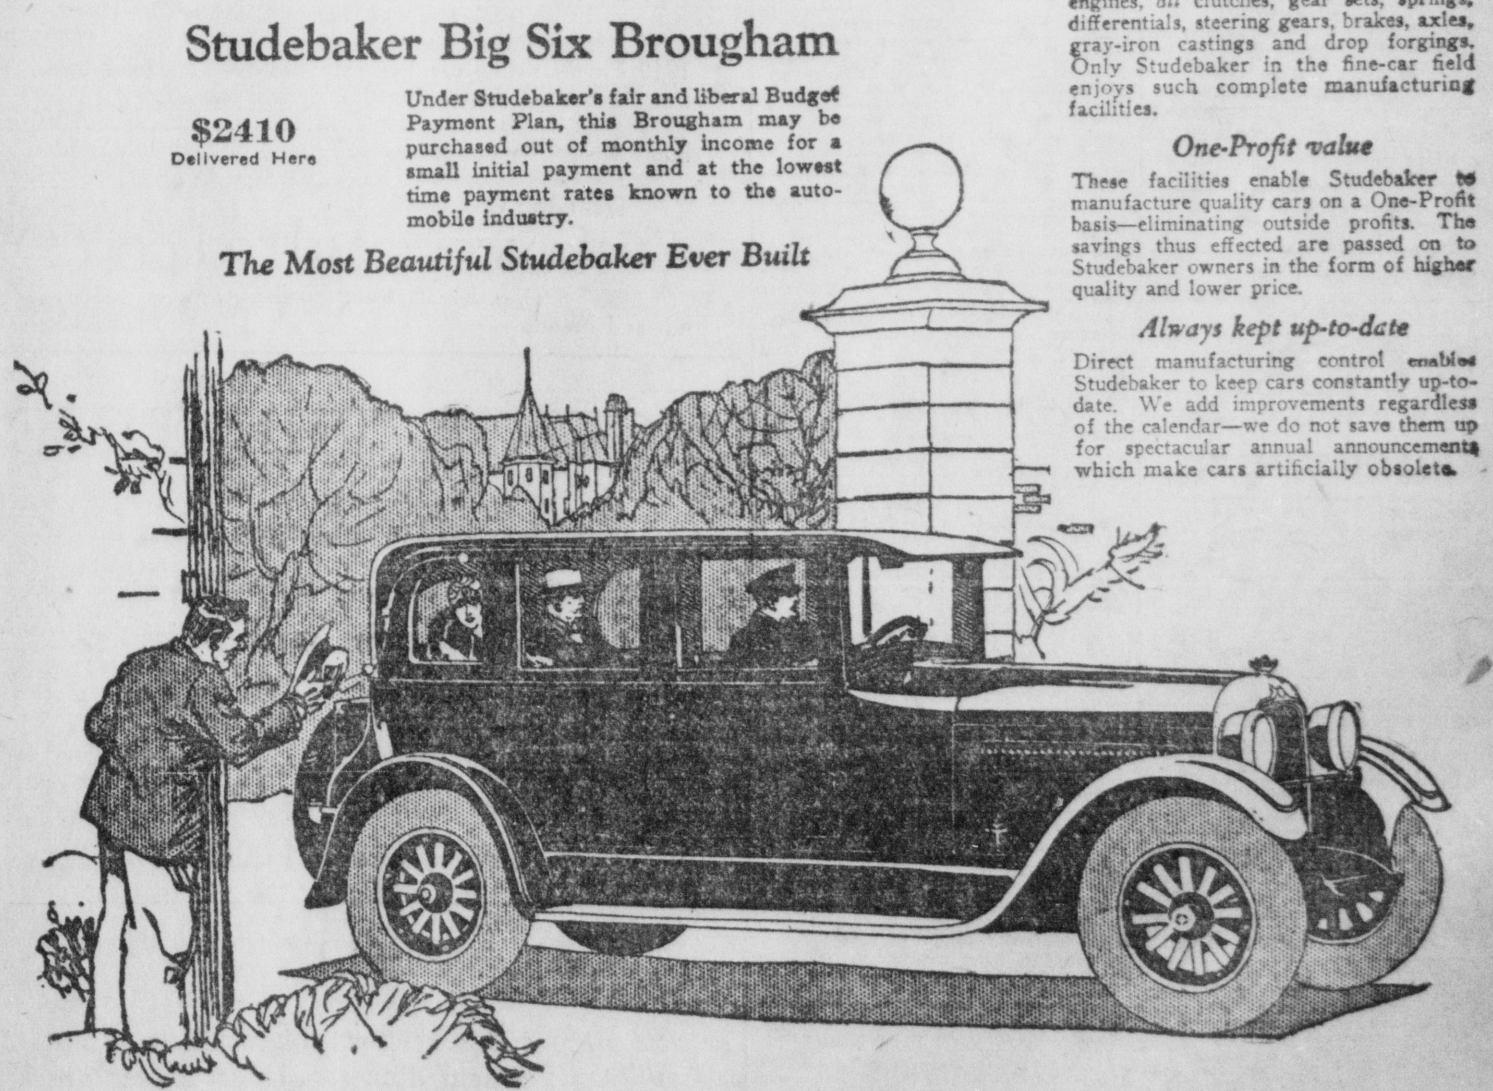

Because of volume production on a One-Profits basis, Studebaker is able to offer a value in the Big Six Brougham that no manufacturer can duplicate. No other car of equal rated horsepower sells at less than double its price.

Studebaker's unique facilities
Few motor car "manufacturers" have foundries, forges, etc., to make their own engines—yet one-fifth of an automobile's cost is in the engine. Even fewer build their own bodies—yet one-third of a car's cost is in the body.

Studebaker builds all its own bodies, all engines, all clutches, gear sets, springs, differentials, steering gears, brakes, axles, gray-iron castings and drop forgings. Only Studebaker in the fine-car field enjoys such complete manufacturing facilities.

One-Profits value
These facilities enable Studebaker to manufacture quality cars on a One-Profits basis—eliminating outside profits. The savings thus effected are passed on to Studebaker owners in the form of higher quality and lower price.

Always kept up-to-date
Direct manufacturing control enables Studebaker to keep cars constantly up-to-date. We add improvements regardless of the calendar—we do not save them up for spectacular annual announcements which make cars artificially obsolete.

Financial and Market News

WALL ST. JOURNAL

NEW YORK, April 22.—Bullish tendencies which developed in Wednesday's session became increasingly aggressive today. Trading expanded in volume as the recovery proceeded and prices were reached by General Electric, Hudson, General Motors, DuPont and other speculative issues which represented extensive rebounds from their recent lows.

Demand funds renewed at 3 1/4 per cent, the most reasonable initial charge with one exception since May 12, 1925. This further lowering of the rate strengthened the belief entertained in banking circles that the other period of prolonged ease in credit conditions such as occurred in the middle of the year 1924, just prior to the toolidge boom when borrowings were available for speculative purposes day after day.

MULDOON HOLDS OUT FOR TUNNEY-DEMPSEY

Billy Evans Says
MURDERERS' ROW
Murderers' row was a rather appropriate name given to four or five sluggers on the New York Yankees a few years back.
American league pitchers certainly regarded them in that light as one after another of these much-favored sluggers faced them.
The passing of Wally Pipp, and the slump experienced by Ruth and Ward, caused the title to be abandoned last season. The old punch was missing.
Looks as if it would be revived again this year from the way the Yankees are hitting the ball.
Ruth is doing a comeback, while Lazzeri and Koenig have been added to the combination. These three, plus Lou Gehrig and Bob Meusel, provide something for a pitcher to worry about.

Rude Reception
Nine runs and nine hits in one inning is an experience entirely new to the great Dazzy Vance, star pitcher of the National league.
The speed ball king was treated to such a happening in one of the spring games between the Yankees and the Dodgers.
Seven of the hits were singles, two were doubles and one error was mixed in for a total of nine runs.
Never in all his career has Vance been so rudely handled in a single session and it is doubtful if it ever happens again.

No-Hit Game
Most of the star pitchers of the majors have at some time during their career turned in a no-hit game. Grover Alexander is one of the few exceptions.
Walter Johnson has one to his credit and on another occasion held the St. Louis Browns hitless for seven innings, only to have rain end the game and spoil his chance of adding another hitless affair to his record.
On one occasion Alexander had two strikes on the batter and two out in the ninth, only to have him scratch a hit, a pop fly back of second, to spoil the big chance.
Now that the ball has been toned down a bit, Alex has hopes.

HEARD HAS ONE BAD FRAME AND POLYTES LOSE

Jerry ("Lefty") Heard, the Joe McGinnity of the Santa Ana high school baseball team, tried hard to bring home his third game in three days when the locals met Hollywood yesterday but the assignment was a little too much even for such an iron man as Heard and Poly went down to another defeat, 4 to 1. The seven-inning contest was played at Hollywood.

Scheduled games with Pomona and the Sherman Indians today and tomorrow have been cancelled and Coach Lyman Kidman's charges will take things easy until Saturday when they travel to Glendale for their fourth Coast Preparatory league combat.

Kidman has been using Heard frequently in order to save his big southpaw, "Tex" Rister, for the Glendale joust. The Poly iron man let the movie city outfit down with six blows but three of these were assembled in the same span, the second, when Hollywood scored all of its runs.

Chet Siegel, Santa Ana receiver, accounted for the lone local run. His single was followed by safeties by Heard and Koral, enabling Siegel to ramble across the platter. The box score:

POLY SECONDS WIN FROM WILLARD, 5-4

By FLETCHER BUXTON
When the Frances E. Willard junior high school baseball team met the Santa Ana high school seconds in a practice tilt at Poly field yesterday, both teams had to make the best of a bad bargain.
The Poly varsity had taken most of the "scrub" regulars away for their game at Hollywood so that the minor teams found themselves with but one ball and a bat between them. They played it out, however, and with the exception of a few "times out" to hunt the ball, they got through in fine shape.

The game was a four inning affair with the Poly seconds taking Willard into camp, 5 to 4.

Drake Football Eleven to Play Hawaiian Team

HONOLULU, April 22.—Hawaii was today assured of seeing at least two football games in the next Christmas holiday season.

Drake University of the Missouri Valley conference has accepted the invitation of the University of Hawaii to meet the Hawaiian varsity football eleven December 13, according to announcement by Otto Klum, Hawaii coach.

University of Texas has already agreed to meet the Hawaiian varsity. Negotiations for a third game, probably with the University of California are under way.

VAN DIEN NEW PRESIDENT OF S. A. COUNTRY CLUB; TUBBS, DOWNIE, SPURGEON HONORED

H. B. Van Dien, well known Santa Ana merchant and sportsman, today took over the presidential duties of the Santa Ana Country club following his election to the high office at the meeting of the board of directors of the local golfing organization last night. Van Dien succeeds John L. Wheeler whose term recently expired.

The oft repeated expression that "weight will stop any horse" seems to be the center around which western turfmen are discussing Carlaris, new sensation of the track, and one of the favorites in this year's Kentucky Derby.

"Can he carry the weight?" they are asking each other. Then they point out that he was under only 100 pounds when he carried his owner's colors to victory in the $75,000 Cofferth Handicap.

In the coming Derby Carlaris must walk to the post prepared to carry 126 pounds of weight for the Derby distance.

Many mid-western turfmen point out that this added weight will seriously hamper the chances of the Phalaris-Carnival colt in America's premier race. Then others point out that Carlaris is bred to travel over long distances and that he may be able to carry the weight.

Some of the horse followers are wont to class him as "another Man O' War." Then some will refer to it as "Quatrain" winner of the Louisiana Derby and a favorite to win last year's Kentucky classic.

Another question being discussed by the horsemen is "Can Carlaris be kept at the fine edge until the day of the derby?"

W. T. Anderson trainer of Carlaris, is of the opinion that his horse can carry on and is grooming him with the Kentucky Derby as his goal.

But the fact remains that Carlaris has smashed records at the derby distance, one mile and a quarter, and many westerners are willing to take it for granted that he can do it with the weight on his back.

At present he is an equal public choice, with Pompey, to win the $50,000 classic in the winter books.

Immediately after Carlaris won the Cofferth Stakes and the middle west awoke to find a new name spread all over the sport pages they began asking where the horse was as a two year old.

Carlaris, a bay colt by Phalaris-Carnival, was sick during the greater part of last summer. He did little racing until shipped to Tijuana during the first part of this year.

Previous to that time he had started twice, once in New York and once in Kentucky. He didn't get far either one of those times.

But at Tijuana he stepped out and won the Tijuana Derby in a gallop. Then he awakened the entire turf world to the fact that he is a real horse by winning the rich Cofferth.

Carlaris has some wonderful racing blood in his veins. His father, Phalaris, was the leading sire of England last year, twenty of his get winning thirty-four races and a total of $307,355. Phalaris born while the war was raging, ran during the years when little attention was paid to racing and out of 24 starts won 16 races.

Piping 'Em Off
The Yankees knocked Edmuke out of the box and beat the Red Sox, 5 to 4, before an opening day crowd of 40,000.

Eddie Rommel let the Senators down with three hits and the Athletics won, 5 to 2, before 33,000 fans.

Alexander was in fine form and the Cubs beat the Reds, 4 to 2, in the presence of 35,000 fans.

At the same time, the board, meeting for the first time since the annual meeting club members at which four new directors were voted, elected V. V. Tubbs of Tustin as vice-president, Charles E. Downie as treasurer and William H. Spurgeon Jr. as secretary.

Harvey A. Gardner, one of the new directors, announced he would be unable to serve and A. W. Griffith of Huntington Beach was named to fill the vacancy thus created.

The board of directors now is composed of H. B. Van Dien, V. V. Tubbs, C. E. Downie, W. H. Spurgeon Jr., W. E. Chilson, R. A. Emison, Edward McWilliams, A. W. Griffith, John W. Tubbs, C. G. Twist and R. O. Winkler.

Van Dien, a member of the Van Dien-Young company, local trucking and building materials firm, has been a member of the club since his residence here and has served on the board of directors for several years. He has been an indefatigable, progressive worker for the benefit of the golf organization and his election was a popular one. Members are unanimous in the belief that the club will, more than ever, prosper and grow under his guiding hand.

The board of directors announced that an economical program would be undertaken but nothing reasonable overlooked that would better benefit the club membership.

PADDOCK AFTER NEW 100 MARK SATURDAY

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—One hundred yards in nine and five-tenths seconds will be the aim of Charley Paddock, champion sprinter, at Claremont Saturday.

Paddock is a member of the Los Angeles Athletic club's track team, which will meet an all star team selected from Southern California conference colleges at the Pomona College field.

The prominent runner is certain he is able to clip a tenth of a second off the world's record for the 100 yard dash. He will not compete in the 220 yard dash because he wants to save all his energy for an attempt to lower the world mark.

Six S. A. Girls To Compete In County Tourney

Six Santa Ana high school tennis players, winners in class championships, will compete in an Orange county tournament at Fullerton tomorrow afternoon.

The matches are invitational arranged by Fullerton for all the county schools. Miss Alverda West, girls' coach, will accompany the team for the playoffs. Santa Ana's team will consist of Misses Hazel Hilgers, Leona Moon, Jean Nicholson, Lucile Huston, Louise Pea and Mary Ford.

SHORT SPORTS

OAKLAND.—Jack Willis, Texas collegian, won by a technical knockout over Joe Roche, San Francisco middleweight, in the last of a 10-round bout last night at Oakland auditorium.

Roche was chased about the ring and finally knocked down with a terrific right cross his seconds tossed his sponge into the ring.

SANTA ROSA.—It will be Fidel La Barba vs. Roy Riley for the world's flyweight championship when the Natio Sons gather here May 15. If plans by Frank Scaler, promoter of Santa Rosa Athletic club, do not go astray, Scaler has wired La Barba's manager, offering him 40 per cent of the gross take and $1000 expenses.

BERKELEY.—Sixteen baseball players of the University of California squad go to Honolulu for a six weeks' schedule against island teams this spring, according to action approved by the student executive committee.

Radbourne, one of the greatest pitchers in the early history of professional baseball, made a record of 36 straight victories while pitching for the Providence Grays of the National league.

POLY'S 1926 FOOTBALL COACH

GERALD ALLEN ("TEX") OLIVER

Highly recommended by such authorities as "Pop" Warner and Knute Rockne, "Tex" Oliver, former West Point, will come to Santa Ana high school next fall as head football coach. He probably will mentor the Poly basketball squad and assist with track team instruction.

Oliver has been associated with San Diego athletic teams for the last five years. His first connection there was as head coach at Memorial junior high. He developed three championship varsity teams and after almost two years at the Southern junior institution, was called to succeed Walter Davis at the Hilltop in 1924. Davis is now coaching at the University of Arizona.

Oliver stepped right in and took up the reins where Davis left off with the varsity track team and after winning every dual meet that year took the initial Coast Preparatory league meet, which was held in the stadium. This was quite a feat for Oliver in his first season.

He next tried his hand at coaching lightweight football and came within six points of winning the league title the first year. Then last year his material developed. Oliver formed the greatest track team in the history of the San Diego school. He was largely responsible for the world's championship relay team of last season and also for the brilliant performances of Moeller, who took the state title in the discus.

Last football season Oliver again handled the Class B team and made a name for himself when his squad went through the season undefeated to take the state title.

His track squad this season again is a formidable unit and for the Southern California and state interscholastic honors.

Behind good pitching of Tom Zachary, the Browns downed the White Sox, 5 to 1.

LOS ANGELES, April 22.—Jimmy Goodrich, of Buffalo, N. Y., former lightweight champion of the world, plans to leave here Sunday for the east. Goodrich dropped a 10 round decision to Mushy Callahan here Tuesday night.

Five Santa Ana junior college basketball players were awarded their letters, won during the last season, at the student body assembly yesterday.

The Santa Ana quintette placed half way up the league standing in the Southern California conference matches under the coaching of Graham Harris. Those awarded monograms were Captain James Smith, Everett Lutz, Russell Koka, Lawrence Kokx, Frank Labrucherie and Manager Lawrence Minge.

THREATENS TO OULTE NEW YORK BOXING BOARD

Senior Commissioner Says He Won't Have Part in Action Against Rickard

By HENRY L. FARRELL
(United Press Staff Correspondent)

NEW YORK, April 22.—William Muldoon, first chairman and senior member of the New York Boxing commission, threatened to resign today unless his fellow commissioners changed their stand against a heavyweight championship fight between Jack Dempsey and Gene Tunney.

Muldoon said the commission had placed itself in a "ridiculous position," and he said that under no circumstances would he vote approval for a bout between Dempsey and Harry Wills.

He said he had a personal and professional preference for Tunney as the challenger and he would not become a party to threats that Tex Rickard would be driven out of boxing if he matched Dempsey and Tunney any place.

"A Dempsey-Tunney fight," he said, "would be much more interesting than a match between Dempsey and Wills. There is no reason why Tunney should not be allowed to meet the champion in New York and he will be allowed to do so if I have anything to say about it. My term expires shortly, and rather than be a party to the action that has been threatened against Rickard, I will get out."

James A. Farley, chairman of the commission, has taken a radical stand against any heavyweight championship bout in which Wills is not one of the principals. George C. Brower, the third member of the commission has not expressed an opinion for publication.

Farley, however, is being supported by Colonel John J. Ebbels, chairman of the license commission, who says that Rickard has not been given a license to promote boxing this summer in the Yankee stadium.

This bare statement was taken as another threat against Rickard with the intimation that he could make himself open for discipline when he applied for a license.

Rickard's friends believe he has decided to make an issue of it and if the commission tried to block him in New York or New Jersey, he will go to court for an injunction.

RICKARD, DEMPSEY COMPLETE CONTRACT NEGOTIATIONS
FORT WORTH, Tex., April 22.—The next stages of the proposed Dempsey fight apparently will have to be settled in New York, where Tex Rickard and the New York Boxing commission will attempt to get together on a contract signed with the champion Wednesday.

Rickard holds a signed contract today in which the champion is guaranteed a purse and an option on the "gate," expected to net him in the neighborhood of $500,000 for an appearance against an unnamed opponent in a location yet to be decided sometime next September.

Rickard has 90 days before the bout to select the second man in the ring and 60 days before the bout to select the fight site, according to the terms of the contract.

September 18 was favored by Rickard as the date of the bout.

The WOMAN'S DAY.

By Allene Sumner

Well, Why Don't They? Why don't they, somebody, anyway, ever stage a delicate, genteel, refined lobster contest? Here's a chance for a Beau Brummel or Lord Chesterfield to show the stuff that's in him! Laurels await he or she who can emerge from a gustatory bout with a lobster, still clean of jowl and yet with plenty of the lobster safely interred. Meanwhile, until someone shows us how, we look not upon the lobster when it is red!

Now they say that roller skating's wicked and the work of Satan! Poor young man trying to do right is canned from his church because he runs an amusement hall wherein the sinful roller skate is permitted to roll. They think, too, do the church elders, that the basketball suits are not altogether respectable. Next thing we know it will be sinful to ride the derby racer or shoot-the-chutes, go in swimming, play tag, or chew gum. Wotta world!

Her Beauty Frauleins and matrons of Germany must wear their skirts at least two inches longer, according to a ukase of German men who complain that the knees and nether limbs of the nation's womenfolk are too plump for such succulent skirts. It is evident that the nation's women folk do not stand on the tips of their toes, stretching upward, then down, about 100 times a day. Guaranteed, they say, to make shapely extremities.

Her Gown! The follies of fair ladies' dress have long been a favored topic of the male. But man's dress today is a fearful and wonderful collection of meaningless odds and ends. For instance, buttons and slits up the backs of their coats are simply a reminder of the day when knights rode horses and the garment was cut to fit over horse, and to be buttoned when man was afoot. Ladies' gowns of this season are apt to be utterly untrimmed, depending on odd geometrical lines for their effect.

Her Table! The famous enchantress, Circe, than whom there never lived greater lurer, got her man via the stomach route, it seems. Scientists have discovered Circe's recipe which made a man forget all but Circe and her charms. The recipe runs, "red wine, and in it barley-meal and cheese and honey, and mighty drugs withal, of which if a man drank he forgot all that he loved." Modern Circes might try cheese soup. One-third pound cheese; 1 quart milk; salt and pepper; 1 teaspoon onion juice; 1 tablespoon flour; 1 tablespoon butter; yolk of 2 eggs. Milk, grated cheese, onion juice, salt and pepper in double boiler. Butter and flour rubbed together with little cold milk, added. Beaten yolks put in just before serving. Boil it well.

Her Mind! If not actually improved, the mind would be vastly entertained by Dame Nellie Melba's book of memoirs known as "Melodies and Memories." She tells of singing a tragic aria with Caruso, fighting to repress her giggles as the great tenor squeaked a rubber rabbit in her ear. Tells of "the boys" in the orchestra pit trying to make the singers laugh by donning white kerchiefs as flowing woggles.

A Thought

There is he that maketh himself rich, yet hath nothing; there is he that maketh himself poor, yet hath great riches.—Prov. 13:7.

Parsimony is enough to make the master of the slaves as poor as he that hath nothing; for a man may be brought to a morsel of bread by parsimony as well as profusion.—Henry Home.

ADVENTURES of the TWINS by OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON

NO. 16—SNITCHER SNATCH HAS TO RUN

"Get out!" shouted Mister Tingaling.

Mister Tingaling and the Twins left the hive to the honey bees and all the friendly bees buzzed a goodbye. "Good-bye!" cried the Queen Bee. "I hope that Mrs. Tingaling will like the honey. And tell her she can eat all she wants, and it won't make her fat." Away started Mister Tingaling and the Twins, pulling the square honeycomb along like a little wagon. "Let's sing a song," said the little fairyman. "I'm feeling happier than I have for six weeks. I feel just like singing." "What shall we sing?" said the Twins. "But before anyone could answer there was a loud buzzing, and looking back they beheld a large wasp settle himself right on the honey and start to eat it. "Get out!" shouted Mister Tingaling.

"I won't," said the wasp. "I like honey and I'm going to have some. If you put me off, I'll sting you." "Oh, then just help yourself!" said the fairyman. "I guess you can't eat much anyway. Come on, children. Don't pay any attention to the cross old thing. Let's sing." "What'll we sing?" said the Twins again. "Why let's sing, let's sing—let's see. Why we'll sing—" But just then there was another buzzing. And looking back quietly the rent collectors saw a big hornet settling himself on the honey. "Get out!" shouted Mister Tingaling. "That's my honey." "I don't care," said the hornet. "I like honey and I'm going to have some. Move over, wasp! Gimme room! Um, yum! That's good sweet honey! Don't worry! There will be lots left for you, Mister Fairyman."

CHILDREN WILL LEAVE HOME, EXPECT IT, WARNS CYNTHIA

BY CYNTHIA GREY "And after all I've done for them, my children never come home to see me! Oh they drop in for an hour or so on Sundays. Just a few minutes of talk, then away they go again and I'm left all alone. "What's wrong with my children that they have no more thought for their old parents?" So I heard a father complain not long ago. In return I would like to say to him, "what's wrong with parents that they forget their own youth? What's wrong with parents who insist on interpreting the normal, to-be-expected events of life as the abnormal and the unexpected?" Life moves in clearly defined, invariable cycles, and yet each generation refuses to read the writing on the wall and to face the bound-to-happen! If parents have any intelligence at all they must realize that the normal trend of human affairs, the cycle of life, means grown children and the empty nest. If they would look behind them they would remember that the least of their concerns at the age of two and 20 was the home nest and the old folks at home. They went forth to live "a life of their own," to build their own home, and normally so. The most normal, to-be-expected thing in life is for offspring to outgrow need of the parents who bore them or the home that sheltered them. And yet parents, to the exasperation of their children, so often keep the outgrown home as a waiting sanctuary, fires lit, table set, for the children who will not come back and should not come back!

SOFTEN THE LINES

An exquisitely feminine touch is given to the new street frock by lace pleatings at the neck and sleeves.

Menus for the Family

By SISTER MARY

Breakfast—Stewed prunes, cereal, thin cream, French toast, maple syrup, milk, coffee. Luncheon—Cream of onion soup, toasted crackers, egg sandwiches, fig cookies, milk, tea. Dinner—Broiled herring, lemon butter, lattice potatoes, beet greens, stuffed pepper salad, rhubarb frappe, milk, coffee. If you are interested in fancy cutlery for vegetables you will like the device used to make lattice potatoes. This cutter can be used for salad vegetables as well as potatoes. Potatoes cut "a la lattice" are fried in deep fat and are crispy through as French fried cannot be, but they are not chippy to the state of nothingness that distinguishes Saratoga chips.

Rhubarb Frappe Two pounds rhubarb, 2 cups sugar, 1 cup water, 1 lemon, 1 egg (white), 2 tablespoons powdered sugar. Wash rhubarb and peel if necessary. Cut in small pieces and put into baking dish with water and sugar. Bake in slow oven until rhubarb is tender, about forty-five minutes. Rub through a fine sieve and add juice of lemon. When cool fold in the egg white beaten until stiff and dry on a platter with a wire whisk. Beat powdered sugar into white just before combining with rhubarb. Turn into a freezer and let stand two hours packed in three parts of ice to one of rock or ice-cream salt.

Or the frappe can be frozen to a mush with stirring in two parts ice to one of salt and then packed in four parts of ice to one of salt until wanted to use. It will take about ten minutes to freeze "to a mush." Breakfast—Wineapples, apples, cereal, thin cream, broiled cottage ham, creamed rice, bran toast, milk, coffee. Luncheon—Lentil soup, croutons, carrot and cottage cheese salad, sandwiches, ginger bread, milk, tea. Dinner—Broiled white fish, scalloped potatoes, mold of spinach with hard cooked eggs, new onions and radishes, apricot whip, whole wheat bread, plain cake, milk, coffee.

A salad sandwich is always acceptable for luncheon. It saves dishes and simplifies serving as well as being quite a full meal in itself for the average adult. Grated new carrots are combined with cottage cheese. The cheese should be quite dry. The mixture is made moist with a well-seasoned salad dressing and served on a crisp lettuce leaf placed on a slice of bread and butter. A tiny pickle or olive can be used as a garnish if needed. Lentil Soup One cup lentils, 1 onion, 1 tablespoon minced parsley, coarse celery leaves, 5 cups water, 1 1/2 cups milk, 2 tablespoons butter, 2 tablespoons flour, 1 teaspoon sugar, 2 teaspoons salt, 1/4 teaspoon pepper. Wash and pick over lentils. Let stand overnight in cold water to more than cover. In the morning drain and put into a kettle with water. Bring to the boiling point and simmer until tender. Add water as necessary. Wash coarse leaves from head of celery. Mince. Mince onion and parsley. Add to lentils when they are about half cooked. When all the vegetables are tender rub through a sieve without draining. Melt butter, stir in flour and slowly add milk, stirring constantly. Add soup to thickened milk, season and bring to the boiling point. Serve at once. Tomato juice can be used in place of milk if preferred. (Copyright 1926, NEA Service, Inc.)

FASHION HINTS LAW OF AVERAGES It is one of those strange, feminine contradictions that the more masculine and severe the haircut becomes, the more feminine and clinging the frock is. COLOR COMBINATIONS The combination of citron and rose, or citron and certain more conscious shades of green is extremely smart. IN BLACK AND RED A charming French importation consists of a snappy frock of black and white checked taffeta and a coat of red kasha cloth, lined with black and white. FEATURING THE HEM Many a georgette crepe frock is given a distinct style by finishing the hem with a wide puffing of taffeta in the same shade. These bands often amount to thick ruches. VOGUE FOR LACE Black lace is at the height of its popularity, and is quite frequently combined with black or blonde chiffon. FEMINE BOWS Never have bows been so important as today, they are apt to be found at any point on the afternoon or evening gown, but usually defining a sash that ties directly in front. SOMETHING DIFFERENT The three-quarter length cape is having a vogue in Paris, particularly in tweed to make a part of a sport costume. FOR THE SLENDER Many of the new gowns and coats show a tendency to blouse in the back. Often they suggest some variation of the popular bolero. EXAGGERATED SIZE Large silk handkerchiefs are tied about the waistline of some of the smartest sport frocks, usually just below the natural waistline. A mammoth variety of firefly found in the West Indies gives a glow so brilliant that by its printed matter may be read at a distance of several inches.

BEAUTY CHATS

MORE FACIAL MASSAGE

Yesterday's facial massage directions went only so far as the forehead, cheeks and chin. The two places where definite wrinkles appear first are around the eyes and down the sides of the mouth. The Eyes—The motion is always the same for this part. Run the fingers lightly over the eyelids, then press more heavily at the corners of the eyes, and bring them, still pressing rather heavily, under and back to the nose. This goes crosswise over those lines. For Mouth Wrinkles—When above the mouth, start in the middle and massage out to the cheeks. You can manage this most conveniently using only the two middle fingers. When at the sides of the mouth, use either the palms of the hands, spread with cream, as you do for sunken cheeks, or the fingers. Begin at the point of the chin and go upward across those wrinkles. Some masseurs use the whole flat part of the finger so as to cover the entire wrinkle each time; it isn't important, the main thing is that the stroke should cross the wrinkles and raise the fallen muscles that cause them. The Nose—Rub up and down the nose and press inward on the nostrils, which often have a tendency to bulge and look fat, and spoil the face. Vigorous massage of this sort will help clear the nose of blackheads.

Tomorrow—Pretty Feet. Yesterday's simple outline, you need not bother. The professional masseurs at $5 to $10 an hour will tell you of dozens of other massage motions. They are not of enough benefit for you to learn them. For a home massage, you want to stimulate the skin, work in cream or some oil if there are wrinkles, and refresh the tired muscles. Katherine C. D.—If you train yourself to eat less than formerly you may need to omit the fattening foods. It is possible that you have increased your weight by consuming more food than you actually require; one does this without realizing it. If you try dieting for a few days, you will find that you do not crave the quantity of food that you did before. Experiment this way for a few weeks, and if you do not lose some weight, begin to omit some of the starchy foods, or omit all sugar from your food. Inquiring Ann and Kate—One reason why many bobbed heads look so trig is due to the way the hair is trained after the shampoo. Some women comb the hair while it is still damp in just the way they wish it to remain afterward. To make it set, they tie it into place with a net while it dries.

Queer Quirks of NATURE.

WHEN IT COMES TO SINGING LOVE SONGS, THE BOB WHITE IS NO MEAN ROMEO

BY ARTHUR N. PACK President, the American Nature Association No bird in America, perhaps, is a greater favorite than little Bob White, whose cheerful spring call has given us the name by which he is widely known, though in the south partridge is perhaps more commonly used. In some parts of the country "more-wet," or "no-more-wet," is sometimes heard, while quail is in common use in many sections. Bob White's habit of living in coveys of a dozen or so, usually a pair of birds and their season's brood, and his swift direct flight, have always made him a favorite with the sportsman, and many thousands find yearly to the gun. Yet he is such a favorite, and his habits are so beneficial, that efforts have been made in some states to have Bob declared a song bird so that he might be given year-long protection.

In April the coveys break up and soon the call of "bob-white" sounds from fence post or low tree. This is the call to his mate, and, if we walk softly along quiet paths in his chosen territory, we may hear the softer musical notes that make up the remainder of his love song. The nest is well hidden in briar patch or thick grass and holds from a dozen to 20 white eggs, rounded at one end and sharply pointed at the other. Mrs. Bob probably picks out the nest, but the father bird does his full share of the incubating, and, when the tiny chicks come out, helps in their feeding and training all through the season. The little fellows can fly when scarcely larger than sparrows, and so well are they cared for that nearly all of them usually grow up. When scattered they are brought together by the rallying call, a peculiar whistle which is their only note in winter. Each night they roost on the ground in a circle, all headed outward to facilitate scattering in case they are attacked.

Russell J. Birdwell

HOLLYWOOD, April 22.—This motion picture business has outgrown its nurse's arms. It's getting downright seriously big. Here are the facts and figures: Upward of $67,000,000 a year is being spent by the industry to advertise its wares. Newspapers are the chief gainers, says Will Hays, the chief fundraiser, and eleven feature pictures are being planned for 1926-27. During the last year 696 of such pictures were produced. Hardly a week goes by without the birth of an outstanding production. Free casting bureaus have replaced the old "extra lines" at the studios, and these bureaus have placed 60,000 people since the first of the year. Echoes of "The Good Old Summer Time," "Bedelia," "Rings on My Fingers," and "Tip-i-Addy!" Who do you suppose is in the movies now? Why, it's Blanche Ring, herself. Miss Ring, who comes of a family boasting three generations of stage folk, made her debut at 16 as Chauncey Olcott's leading woman. As a singing comedienne, she captured Broadway, and her name became known from coast to coast. She's to be Tessie, a designing spinster in W. C. Fields' "It's the Old Army Game" (meaning, never give a sucker an even break).

Gene Tunney has dropped in for a picture. The heavyweight battler, while keeping in trim for a shot at Dempsey's headgear, will star in one of those red-blooded action serials. Tunney will portray an ex-Marine, who upholds the tradition of that branch of the service "the first in and the last out." Tunney was a "devil dog" during the war. Dimitri Buchowitzki will direct Emil Jennings' first American picture. The famous German dramatic star is to arrive in September. The picture will be "A Thief of Dreams," based on Richard Connell's story "A Friend of Napoleon," which appeared in the Saturday Evening Post. Buchowitzki directed three of Jennings' great pictures in Germany, "Peter the Great," "Othello," and "All for a Woman." More than 1000 people applied recently for an opportunity to appear in Gloria Swanson's new picture, "Fine Manners." Half of them were chosen for a big scene.

U. S. AIRPLANES TO TAKE PART IN BREA MEET

BREA, April 22.—One of the first events on the Elks' air meet program at the local airport on Saturday will be the arrival of military airplanes from Clover Field and Rockwell Field, forming an imposing array of aerial equipment which will circle the field and the surrounding country in echelon formation before "sitting down" at the airport.

This big demonstration is scheduled for 11 a. m. and a monster crowd from all surrounding flying fields and airports is expected to be on hand to welcome the pilots and mechanics as they climb out of their cockpits.

Civilian ships will begin to arrive as early as 10 a. m., according to Frank Mason, commodore of the Brea Air club, and most of them will do a stunt landing, starting the day's thrills early in the forenoon. As these pilots are interested in the exhibits of the first show of its kind in the west, they will arrive early and take in the show before the actual races and contests start at noon.

The first plane to enter in the races will taxi down the field at noon, the morning being given over to a stunt tug-of-war and the welcoming of visiting ships. Seven ships are coming from Santa Barbara, and five from Ventura.

LA HABRA CITRUS HOUSE TO SHIP MORE THAN 300 CARS OF FRUIT THIS YEAR

LA HABRA, April 22.—Expecting one of the best years in the history of the orange industry, the harvesting of valencia oranges in the La Habra district will begin next week. Picking will start the first of the week, and shipping of the golden fruit will follow a few days later.

It is expected that the crop handled by the La Habra Citrus association will be over 300 cars, a substantial increase over last year, when about 225 cars were shipped. Plans at the present are to ship about 14 cars a week according to shipping and marketing conditions, and to close the season about October 1.

The association now has 140 field pickers employed, with 90 workers in the lemon house. With the opening of the season 30 additional employees will be needed in the orange house.

The association's plant has been put in the best of condition for handling the big crop. A new lemon packing belt is now being installed, and will be ready for use about the first of next week.

The index orchards will begin picking valencia oranges about May 10, and will employ 25 persons. The season's crop is estimated at about 30 cars of oranges and practically the same of lemons. The shipping of oranges will be distributed over about four months, being governed by other subjects including the valencia season opens with every reason to expect good prices during the entire summer, citrus men say. The crop is of a much better size and quality than that of last year, and all indications point to a record breaking year of profits to the growers.

RETIREMENT OF R. Y. WILLIAMS

The unexpected retirement of Judge R. Y. Williams from the Superior court bench is an occasion for regret such as is not often felt when a man finds it necessary to leave a public office. The regret centers not only around the fact that the county is to lose the services of a jurist of unusual ability, experience and personality, a man recognized as among the very best judges in any of the courts of California, but also because of the fact that Judge Williams' health has become impaired.

The physical welfare of Judge Williams is concerned. He has resigned upon the advice of his physician. Years of hard work on the bench have contributed to the condition that has necessitated a period of complete rest and careful attention to matters affecting his health. The encouraging feature in relation to the judge's health, however, is that there is every reason to believe that within six or seven months he will have recovered. He will then return to private practice in the profession that he has honored through his efforts.

Judge Williams brought to the bench a well trained judicial mind. The profound respect held for him as a lawyer and leader at the Southern California bar was enhanced day by day and month by month as cases were tried before him. Not all lawyers make good judges. Some highly successful lawyers have failed on the bench. Some lawyers who were unable to get and hold an extensive private business have made good judges. R. Y. Williams was highly successful as a lawyer, and his career in that regard was fully matched by his work in charge of the destinies of many hundreds of court actions.

We have in mind just now some of the things that were said at a meeting of the Orange County Bar association at the time Judge Williams, recognized as the head of the bar, gave up his practice in order to accept appointment as judge. At that time Judge Z. B. West, turning to the younger men of the bar, said:

"No small number of factors contributed to the success of R. Y. Williams as a practitioner in our court. There is one factor, however, to which I call the attention of these young men. That is, that never in all the years that R. Y. Williams has practiced law in this court has he appeared to try a case without being thoroughly prepared; he had taken whatever time was necessary, early morning or late night, so that every angle of law was in his mind, and he was ready to meet any move of his opponent."

Today, with Judge Williams finishing his career upon the bench, this same attribute of painstaking industry, equalled only by his unusual gift of sound judgment and what one may call "common horse sense," may be pointed to as one of the reasons for his success as a jurist.

And in retiring from the bench, Judge Williams today is an inspiration and an example for younger men, not only those engaged in the legal profession but in any line of business.

IT MEANS MUCH TO US

Forest Ranger J. B. Stephenson, in charge of the Santa Ana mountains, has done well during the week, designated as American Forestry Week, to bring to Orange county an emphasis upon what the preservation of forests and brush coverings means to this county. It is easy to talk about forestry work in general terms, just as it is easy to talk about any great movement in general terms. When the discussion is brought close home, the matter assumes a more vital and interesting aspect.

The forest ranger links up forest and brush preservation with what is to us our most vital problem—our problem of conservation of water. Every experience of the forest service in what happens to sections that are burned over has had its counterpart in our own mountains. Rains following devastations have washed away the soil and have left barren areas. Wherever there is a barren area, water that has fallen in rain rushes off to the sea instead of being held back to percolate into streams for usefulness in the months when water is most needed.

He has also brought emphasis to the growing usefulness of forest areas for recreational purposes, in which use the forest service is in full sympathy.

The public's responsibility in guarding its highly valuable forest and brush ranges and ridges is recognized. The one great problem that is before us is to hammer into the heads of all of those who go into the mountains a sense of personal responsibility. And in its effort to bring to individuals a sense of responsibility, an understanding of conditions, a determination to use care and caution, the forest officials are deserving of the united support of the residents of this county.

If it is really getting so that advertisers can't sell anything without a picture of a nude woman, business must be in a worse way than anyone has supposed.

AIR SUPREMACY SOON

By the middle of May, it is promised, the United States will have the most extensive air service in the world. Its air mail already surpasses that of any other country. It will soon surpass that of any other combination of countries.

Few Americans realize what has been accomplished in aviation, as a result of government pioneering. The great transcontinental air mail line between New York and San Francisco, operated by the Postoffice Department, is a proved success and a fixture. With it are being connected a dozen big feeder lines, operated by private enterprise, running to New England, the South, Southwest and Northwest. This branching system, fed in turn by railroad mail trains, will pretty well cover the country, and will continue growing until its facilities are available in every section and every state.

Already the east and west coasts are only a day and a half apart. The northern and southern tiers of states will soon be only one day apart. The distances will continue shortening in the matter of time, as every part of the country comes within the scope of the growing system.

This is the sort of thing that was visioned by imaginative men when the airplane was invented—indeed, before that, as Kipling's great air mail story shows. The mail routes will soon be supplemented by private commercial lines, weaving over the country as our national highways do. American air genius is justifying itself at last.

The new 3.75 per cent malt tonic, the federal government rules, is "for sick people only." And it's remarkable how much sickness there seems to be this spring.

Gen. Butler Did His Duty

San Bernardino Sun

There could have been no other result of the court-martial of Colonel Williams for his "cocktail" party in honor of Brig. Gen. Butler than the verdict of guilty. Otherwise through the land there would have been the new wincecrack, "What is the constitution between friends?"

There has been much said of the duty of a guest to his host. It seems that Brig. Gen. Butler violated social etiquette when he ordered a court-martial for his brother officer. But General Butler did not violate the Constitution of the United States, which he had sworn to uphold.

General Butler emerges from the ordeal—for it must have been an ordeal—a big man. To order proceedings against a brother officer who had just welcomed him to a new station, because that officer became intoxicated, could not have been anything but a highly disagreeable duty.

There is no doubt that in some social circles the course that General Butler took is highly unpopular. Undoubtedly General Butler knew when he took the step that there would be ridicule and abuse for his act. Nevertheless he took it, and somehow, even though it is apparent there are many men in the army, navy and marines who disapprove, there is a new meaning and a new atmosphere for the armed service of the government.

A soldier has done his duty!

We have always expected soldiers to do their duty. But here duty lay in a new path. Regulations of the service required that General Butler do as he did do. True he could have looked away—and violated his oath to uphold the constitution of the United States and to fulfill his duties as an officer of the marines.

That there are soldiers who place duty to their country and to the constitution above social etiquette is important to the country, for this country can not be saved by the interpretation of what may be a social duty. It would appear, however, from a careful examination of the record that General Butler is the aggrieved party, even from a social etiquette viewpoint. He was the commanding officer, just returned to service from a crusade against booze in Philadelphia. A fellow officer placed him in the highly embarrassing position of serving liquor at a function given in his honor. No correct host would have ever placed a guest in such a position.

Greater Sequoia Park

San Francisco Chronicle

Enlargement of the Sequoia National park to take in the adjoining High Sierra country now seems a foregone conclusion. The conflicts with local interests which long held up the proposal are understood to be all smoothly ironed out. Nothing remains now but the self-evident fact that this will make one of the most glorious of all the national parks.

The counties concerned, particularly Tulare and Fresno, have in recent years come to a pretty full realization of the value to them of this high mountain wonderland lying in their eastern confines. They get an impressive object lesson every summer week-end when they see thousands of automobile parties going through to the General Grant and Sequoia Parks, to say nothing of other mountain pleasure places.

Yet this business has hardly more than started. It isn't a marker to what it will be ten years from now. Indeed, there are enthusiasts who go the length of saying that eventually the great sequoia groves and glacier carved canyons and peaks and rock-set lakes will be worth more to Tulare county than even the fat acres of the Kaweah delta.

Inclusion of the High Sierra country of the Kings, the Kaweah and the Kern in the Sequoia National park may be expected to give a great impulse to mountain pleasuring in that region. Once brought into the park, this magnificent Sierran realm will gradually be made accessible. When it is accessible, when there are roads into the canyons of the Kings and the Kern and good hotels there it will be hard to set a limit on the number of visitors they will draw.

PNEUMONIA CAUSES TENTH OF DEATHS

Lobar or croupous pneumonia as it is sometimes called is a very common, a definite, or as we say, a specific disease, acute in character, in which there occurs a peculiar form of inflammation in one or both lungs.

In your study of physiology, you no doubt learned that the lungs are divided into separate parts called lobes, there being three lobes in the right lung and two in the left. In lobar pneumonia, one or more whole lobes of one or both lungs are involved. That is why it is called lobar pneumonia.

From 5 to 10 per cent of all deaths that occur are due to lobar pneumonia. The disease may occur at any age, but is most common in young children and in old people. It occurs more than twice as often in males as in females, due no doubt to the fact that males are more generally exposed to the conditions which help to cause it. Lobar pneumonia occurs all over the world, but is somewhat less common in the tropics. It is most prevalent in the winter months and in early spring, and it is most common, as a rule, in persons having outdoor occupations and very often follows severe exposure to cold.

The direct cause of pneumonia is infection of the lung tissue with a microscopic vegetable germ known as the pneumococcus. This germ is always seen under the microscope in pairs and for this reason, it is often called a diplococcus. Other germs are sometimes found together with the pneumococcus in pneumonia.

It would hardly be profitable to attempt to explain the nature of the inflammatory process in the lung, other than to say that there are four stages and that during most of the time of the duration of the attack, air does not enter the affected portions of the lung.

The symptoms of pneumonia are quite pronounced and are characteristic of the disease. The onset is very abrupt; the patient experiences a rather severe chill and rapidly develops a high fever. There is often severe pain in the side, there is a short dry cough and the breathing is very rapid, the rate being from 40 to 50 breaths per minute in adults, instead of the normal of 18 breaths per minute.

As the disease progresses, the symptoms continue with but slight abatement or they may be increased in severity except for the pain which is usually worse in the early part of the course of the disease, though there is apt to be pain or coughing throughout the entire period. The breathing is difficult and shallow from the beginning. There is a cough with bloody expectoration and this symptom may be quite distressing.

Thoughts and the Mind

By Marcus Aurelius

Such as thy thoughts and ordinary cognitions are, such will thy mind be in time. For the soul doth, as it were, receive its tincture from the fancies, and imaginations. Dye it, therefore, and soak it in with the assiduity of these cognitions.

As for example: Whosoever thou mayest live, there it is in thy power to live well and happy.

Again, that which everything is made for, he is also made unto that, and cannot but naturally incline into it. That which anything doth naturally incline into, therein also doth his good benefit consist.

Society, therefore, is the proper good of a rational creature. For that we are made for society, it hath long since been demonstrated. Or can any man make any question of this, that whatsoever is naturally worse and inferior, is ordinarily subordinated to that which is better, and that those things that are best, are made for one another? And those things that have souls, are better than those that have none, and of those that have, those best that have rational souls?

Time To Smile

ENGLISH AS SPOKEN

An Englishman and an American were having the usual argument as to which country had the queerest dialect. The Englishman was positive he was the winner of the argument.

"Why, say, old cork," he said, "you use the queerest bally expressions I ever heard, blime. The other afternoon I accosted a colored person and asked him if he thought it would rain, and do you know what he said? He said, 'Little dogs it will, and little dogs it won't.'"

The American was puzzled and the next afternoon met the same negro with whom the Englishman had conversed. The negro scratched his woolly head and then said: "That ain't what Ah said. Ah just tol' the man that p'ups it would rain, and p'ups it wouldn't."—Pittsburgh Chronicle-Telegraph.

AT EASE

When the day comes along when you're free for a spell, with nothin' to worry, or fret you, 'tis well if you turn to the highway that's shy of all care and seek the best solace in free, open air.

The mind you've been using on work needs a rest, and lucky the man, who with loafing time blest, can turn to the sky and the road and the trees, and feel that he really is resting at ease.

The wear and the tear of the every day grind is not half so bad as you thing it, you'll find, if things that your mental capacity rob, can just be forgotten when you're off the job.

Did You Ever Stop to Think

By Edson R. Waite, Secretary, Shawnee, Okla., Board of Commerce

THAT newspapers are the melting pot of all local problems.

THAT they do the big part in making perpetual progress.

THAT they initiate faith and hope in the home city.

THAT they are guardians of public affairs and moulders of ideas for the betterment of the home city.

THAT they stand for the rights of every citizen.

THAT they breathe patriotism and encourage success.

THAT they help to build cities and give all they have to make the home city a bigger, busier city.

Reverse of Seal

When the 13 colonies became a republic, national seals were impressed on two sides of pieces of wax in a form similar to that of coins and hung from state papers by ribbons. Regarding that as clumsy, we soon abandoned the pendant seal and stamped the obverse directly upon the document. Most people have forgotten that our seal had ever had two faces. Now, more than 125 years later, the national community board, which is establishing clubs to train Americans for better citizenship, has adopted the reverse of the old national seal as its coat of arms. It bears an unfinished pyramid as an emblem of the republic and the motto, "Annuit coeptis novus ordo seclorum."—Youth's Companion.

There's no place like Home

by O. Lawrence Hawthorne

Home is a garden of beautiful flowers.
Home is a playground with love keeping score.
Home is a haven of rest and contentment.
Home is a harbor on joy's golden shore.

Language could never portray its endearment;
Only the heart knows what Home truly means.
Memory treasures the pleasures of childhood,
Taking us back to its radiant scenes.

Home is the secret of manhood's achievement.
Home is our comfort when shadows draw near.
Home is a temple of endless devotion,
Growing more sacred with each passing year.
